Top Of The Morning

WEATHER

Yesterday's snows will become today's rains. Temperatures will be higher between 34 and 39 until tonight when it turns colder and the rain becomes snow again. Thursday's 7 a.m. report: high, 33; low, 12; .05 in. precipitation. Yesterday: high, 34; low, 28; a trace of precipitation.

Kinzua Dam Report

Pool level 1302.71 (desired summer pool 1328, maximum pool 1365); outlet temperature, 45; reservoir temperature, 46; Warren gauge, 6.80 feet.

WARREN COUNTY

W. V. Coombs, owner of the Keystone Nursing Home, said yesterday that a state program to determine compliance with state and federal regulations concerning equal treatment of all nursing home patients regardless of race, creed or national origin is unnecessary. The state is currently sending visitors to nursing homes in some areas to check on whether discrimination is taking place.

The membership drive for the YMCA in Warren is currently underway and scheduled to end Tuesday. The Warren organization is completing its 81st year. Current membership totals 2,520.

The Warren Civic Orchestra, celebrating its 17th birthday this year, will attempt what may be the most ambitious program in its history tomorrow when the instrumentalists will be joined by the newly formed Warren Philharmonic Chorus for a performance of Mozart's Requiem. The Warren Civic Orchestra story is featured in today's Allegheny Magazine.

THE NATION

President Johnson answered his critics at a news conference that was dominated by the issue of dissent. His voice rising in anger, the President assailed "storm-trooper bullying" by demonstrators. But he emphasized that he had never questioned anyone's patriotism or motives. Everyone he said, must judge for himself whether the dissent being voiced was in the national interest or dangerous to it.

At his White House news conference President Johnson unveiled a free-swinging television style that set Washington talking. The key to the new technique was a portable microphone under his coat that permitted him to walk up and down in front of the television cameras. Political friends and enemies speculated that the new presidential style signaled the beginning of an offensive leading toward next year's election.

President Johnson conceded that there was "no indication whatever" that Congress would enact a tax increase this year. But he warned members of Congress that they would regret their "dangerous" and "unwise" decision to block the proposed tax increase. If taxes are not increased, he said, the budget deficit for this year might reach $35 billion.

Disregarding a presidential warning that it was making a "serious mistake," the House voted to reduce foreign aid to $2.2 billion for the fiscal year ending June 30. The appropriations bill approved by the House was the smallest in the 20 years of the foreign aid program and $1 billion less than the administration's request. The vote was 167 to 143.

Britain was reported to be on the brink of devaluation or of steps toward a siege economy. Confronted with the need for immediate action, the government faced a fearful day in the foreign exchange markets as the country's reserves poured out by the millions. The cabinet was expected to reach a decision over the week-end. Discussions continued with leading central bankers in Paris for a meeting of the 10 industrialized countries that take the lead in world monetary reforms.

Hanoi was publicly warned by President Johnson not to expect easier peace terms from any U.S. President, even after the 1968 elections. In a spirited, arm-waving defense of his Vietnam policy, the president said at a Washington news conference that the allies were making "satisfactory progress" in the war. He affirmed American determination to find an honorable peace, but emphasized that "we keep our commitments" despite domestic dissent.

SPORTS

Warren's Dan O'Neil and Steve Tundel were both first team selections on the Section II, District X All-Star Football Team announced yesterday. O'Neil was named to both the offensive and defensive teams as a halfback and Tundel won a linebacker berth on the defensive unit. Four other Dragons were second team selections, defensive end Ray Lowe, defensive tackle Tom Marti, linebacker Dane Sorensen and offensive guard Tom Beckett. Page 6.

Nigeria's Dick Tiger successfully defended his light-heavy-weight title last night with a technical knockout over Roger Rouse in the 12th round of their scheduled 15-rounder at Las Vegas. An even fight for eight rounds, Tiger opened a cut on the challenger's face and floored him twice before the bout was stopped. Page 7.

UCLA and Southern California meet today in the "Game of the Year" with the national championship, Pacific-8 title and a berth in the Rose Bowl riding on the outcome. As a sidelight, Bruin quarterback Gary Beban and Trojan halfback Q.J. Simpson will wage a personal battle with the Heisman Trophy at stake. Page 8.

SLIPPERY DESCENT CAUSES INJURY

Mrs. Rose Freeborough of Youngsville was seriously injured yesterday when her car skidded on slippery pavement on Yankee Bush rd. and went down an embankment. The car

Youth Killed On Way To Jamestown

FRYBURG, Pa. (AP) — A car skidded on a snow-slick highway and slid head-on into a state highway truck plowing the road yesterday, killing a young man and injuring three young women.

They were students at Clarion State College and en route to Jamestown, N.Y., to attend a wedding.

Killed was the driver, George J. Wildman, 20, of Beaver. Injured were his passengers, Dennis Stewart, 19, of Titusville, Sally Ann Snyder, 20, of Johnstown and Gayle Ham-burg, 21, of Pittsburgh.

Miss Stewart was admitted in satisfactory condition to Titusville Hospital, Miss Snyder and Miss Hamburg were treated at Clarion Hospital and transferred to the college infirmary.

The accident occurred on Pennsylvania 66 about three miles north of this Clarion County town during a storm that dumped four inches of snow in the area. The trucker was not hurt.

VC Call For Long Truce; Thieu Opposes

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
SAIGON — A one-week truce for Tet, the lunar New Year, was announced today by Liberation Radio, the clandestine broadcasting station of the Viet Cong.

The broadcast, monitored here, also said that three-day cease-fires had been ordered for Christmas and New Year. The South Vietnamese president, Nguyen Van Thieu, affirmed yesterday however, that his government would authorize only 24-hour truces for the two western holidays and 48 hours at Tet, which falls on January 30.

He said the enemy took advantage of longer pauses to re-supply its troops in the field.

The U.S. government had no immediate comment on the Viet Cong truce announcement but leading Vietnam policy makers have indicated their opposition to holiday truces longer than one or two days.

Thieu Sees Long Offensive by VC

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
DAK TO, South Vietnam — President Nguyen Van Thieu said yesterday that the North Vietnamese attacks on this central highlands stronghold were part of a general offensive that he expected to continue through next spring.

The North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong, he went on, were seeking "a decisive victory" that might further reduce support for the war in the United States and stir up political problems for his newly elected government in Saigon.

Murder Sentence Draws Attention Of Area Residents

The sentencing Wednesday in Pittsburgh of a 19-year-old youth who confessed to killing a go-go dancer last year, attracted considerable local attention.

The victim, Nancy Lee Reigard, 21, of Natrona Heights, Pa., and daughter of Harry Reigard, a resident of Pleasant Township, was slain by Conrad A. McWilliams Jr. of Penn Hills.

At the time of the killing, Mr. Reigard was estranged from his wife, with borough police Sgt. Edward Peterson, traveled to the Pittsburgh area. McWilliams was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Enemy Driven Back In Savage Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — American troops drove North Vietnamese from two strategic heights south of Dak To yesterday in savage fighting in the central highlands. The battered Communists struck back last night with rocket and mortar barrages.

Far to the south, the Viet Cong made headlong attack on two artillery bases of the U.S. 9th Infantry division 60 miles southwest of Saigon. American artillerymen lowered their big guns and fired point blank at the charging Communists, who reached within 25 yards of the outer lines. After the charge was repulsed, U.S. officers counted 67 enemy dead.

In the central highlands, the major victory was on Hill 1338, named for its height in meters, four miles south of the Dak To air strip. The U.S. Command said 41 North Vietnamese were killed and one captured, U.S. casualties were 8 killed and 31 wounded.

Other American troops seized a hill 10 miles southwest of Dak To and South Vietnamese riflemen were fighting for control of another peak northeast of Dak To.

Reports from the field said the Communists after dark poured mortar and rocket fire on a battalion base of the 4th Division's 12th Regiment, five miles southwest of Dak To and a mile from Hill 1338. Casualties, if any, were not reported.

The conquest coincided with another first in the air war. U.S. fighter-bombers raided the previously exempt Bach Mai airfield at Hanot, a secondary strip a mile south of the center of the Communist capital. Pilots said they cut the runway and blasted the communications building.

About 300 riflemen of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division, toiling up through machine-gun and sniper fire, seized the crest of Hill 1338, actually a mountain rising more than three-quarters of a mile above sea level in the Annamite range that is Vietnam's backbone.

A battalion of North Vietnamese, perhaps 500 men, gave way and presumably fled south under the fire of the infantrymen and the greater fire from supporting elements—massive artillery barrages and bombing and napalming by jet planes.

The U.S. Command announced 17 Americans were Associated Press correspondent Peter Arnett reported a quick survey of the peak showed 8 or 10 enemy dead.

County Highways Post Goes to Elton Barton

The position of Warren County superintendent of highways left vacant by the recent death of Merle See will be filled by Elton Barton of Youngsville on the recommendation of Gurney Ball.

Ball, a Youngsville resident, is chairman of the Warren County Republican committee and reported to this newspaper last evening that Barton will be his choice.

While the county chairman is entitled to make his own recommendation to the governor for filling the position, Ball based his decision after a meeting of 43 of the 46 county committeemen Thursday night.

At this session, he stated, of the 42 votes cast by the committee members present, Barton was the unanimous choice. There was one dissenter.

Others nominated before the balloting were Lester Sheldon, Ralph Dyke and James Marshall, the latter an unsuccessful write-in candidate for county commissioner in the November municipal election. Marshall's name, it was reported, was mentioned only moments before the voting took place.

See, who had been ill for some time before his death, was also a Youngsville resident.

Federal Order Would Cover Area Milk Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department announced yesterday it has recommended a federal milk marketing order for Eastern Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and Northern West Virginia.

The Pennsylvania counties are in the Pittsburgh and Erie marketing areas.

The order would be designed to help stabilize producer milk prices.

The proposed order is based on evidence taken by the department at public hearings in Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Erie last March and April.

Shafer's View of Cities is Bleak

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer told the Public Affairs Council yesterday that his administration is committed to making Pennsylvania cities proper places to "eat, sleep, live and learn."

"Unfortunately, it is... in our cities that purses are stolen, women are raped, homes are broken and entered, families live in poverty, children loiter idly on street corners, schools exist in deplorable condition, flower people congregate and traffic jams congregate the veins of our transportation systems," Shafer said.

OK Chrysler Pact

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers Union skilled tradesmen last night approved a proposed contract with Chrysler Corp., assuring the signing of the labor pact with the firm, the union said.

Woman's Condition Is Critical

Rose M. Freeborough, 40, 512 N. Main st., Youngsville, was critically injured yesterday afternoon when her car skidded on Yankee Bush rd., and struck a tree.

She was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital in Erie with head injuries and lacerations of the head and body. Officials at the hospital said last night her condition remained critical.

Mrs. Freeborough skidded on the pavement and lost control of the vehicle which went over an embankment before sideswiping the tree, state police said.

Damage to the car was estimated at $300.

Slippery conditions contributed to an accident involving a tractor trailer truck on Rt. 6 three miles east of Sheffield yesterday at 11:15 a.m. state police said.

The driver was identified as Gerald A. Davis, 27, RD Box 743, Osceola, Pa.

About $10,000 damage was done to the truck when it jackknifed and struck an embankment, troopers reported.

Damage totaled $750 in a two car crash at the intersection of Hickory and Third ave. in Warren yesterday afternoon. Investigating officers Warren Davis and James Urey said the mishap occurred when a car driven by Peggy Johnson, 16, 24 Elm blvd., headed north on Hickory collided with a car driven by Clarence Kellogg, 52, 2300 Conewango ave., eastbound on Third. Both drivers claimed the light was green in their direction, they said. The accident is continued under investigation.

House Trims Foreign Aid

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — The House, disregarding a presidential warning that it was making a "serious mistake," voted yesterday to trim foreign aid back to $2.2 billion for the fiscal year that ends June 30.

The foreign aid appropriations bill approved by the House was the smallest in the 20 years of the foreign aid program and $1 billion less than had been requested by the administration.

The foreign aid bill now goes to the Senate, where the administration has virtually no hope of obtaining any significant increase in the appropriations.

Says GIs Were Not Brainwashed

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — Brief discussions with three American soldiers released by the Viet Cong guerrillas last Saturday have made "quite clear that they have not been brainwashed," Robert McCloskey, a State Department spokesman, said yesterday.

Official U.S. reports from Saigon at the time the soldiers were liberated in neighboring Cambodia implied that they had been thoroughly indoctrinated with Communist propaganda by their captors.

GIs to Benefit By Becoming Cops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Defense will discharge servicemen up to six months early if they join the Washington police force, District of Columbia officials announced yesterday.

Washington's force is down 381 from its authorized strength of 3,100.

'The Real LBJ' Comes Out in TV Appearance

By ROY REED

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — President Johnson showed a new, free-swinging television style at his White House news conference yesterday and set Washington talking.

Political friends and enemies speculated that it signaled the beginning of an offensive leading toward next year's election.

Thursday night at a White House briefing, Johnson said that he was ready to come out fighting—and yesterday he did.

A Republican congressman who asked not to be quoted by name saw Johnson's news conference on television and called it "pretty darned effective."

"I keep telling our boys," he said, "not to count the chickens before they're hatched."

To some of his former colleagues in Capitol Hill it appeared that Johnson had at last discovered how to be as effectively persuasive with a mass audience as with a private gathering.

A number of persons telephoned the White House from other cities to congratulate the President on his new television delivery. Some said they thought "the real Johnson," as they had seen him in private, had come across on the screen.

The key to the new technique was a portable microphone hidden under Johnson's coat. The device, sometimes called a "peanut" microphone, permitted him to move up and down in front of the cameras, much like a revival preacher.

He waved his arms, chopped the air, drew imaginary lines with his fingers. "Watched his eye glasses, scowled, laughed and ran his voice through a range of sound from angry volume to self-deprecating gentleness.

Beyond the theatrics, he enlivened the content of the news conference with historical comparisons, scriptural quotations, jokes and a bit of sarcasm.

The new style is the visible part of what apparently is to become a major theme with the President between now and next year's election—a shift from the defensive to the offensive as he begins trying to convince the public that the war in Vietnam is being won, the administration is in good shape and things are going well all around.

The new technique became obvious about eight minutes into the news conference. A reporter noted that Johnson would complete four years in office next Wednesday and asked him to assess his satisfactions and disappointments.

Johnson removed his glasses and stepped casually to the right of the podium.

"I think we had better do that a little later," he began, then paused and reflected. "I can't tell all the good things that have happened or the bad ones, either, in these four years in a 30-minute press conference. I would be charged with filibustering."

Nevertheless, he went on to reminisce about his administration's contributions to education, anti-poverty programs, health and conservation programs and international relations. He walked slowly back and forth as he talked. Mrs. Johnson sat at one side and watched him closely.

The next questioner wanted an estimate of the Vietnam situation, and that brought a flush of interest to his face.

He turned slightly to the side to face the questioner and exposed to the camera a profile that has become a little fuller in recent weeks.

"The time came when we had to put up or shut up," he said, and he chopped the air with both hands.

Americans like sharp rises for their side and sharp drops for the other side when they enter a contest, he said. This time Johnson drew lines in the air with his hands, straight up and down.

But the war in Vietnam is going more like this, he said, and he drew a pair of slowly ascending and descending lines in the air.

Only once did he slip noticeably in his grammar. That was when he said Southeast Asians thought it "absolutely essential that Uncle Sam keep her word" in Vietnam. "Her" was changed to "his" in the official transcript.

In the capitol cloakrooms, some congressmen said the performance reminded them of Johnson's private arm-twisting during his days in the Senate. Rep. Jack Brooks (D-Tex.) rubbed his hands together and said, "they ain't heard nothing yet."

"He can't be Ronald Reagan," Rep. Richard Bolling (D-Mo.) said. "The only way is to be himself. And he was himself today."

Several congressmen said they had advised the President or his aides to stop projecting himself as pious, melancholy and grandfatherly and start being himself. Some said they had told him to stop listening to intellectuals and start being the persuader that he once was, and that he always has been in small, private gatherings.

A White House aide said several of the President's advisers had urged him recently to change his television style to make better use of his persuasive powers.

A White House aide said, "What was coming out today was the real guy—the way you see him off-camera and informally. I was glad to see it."

Highlights Of LBJ's Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Highlights of President Johnson's news conference yesterday:

On Vietnam: "No increase" in the number of U.S. troops is anticipated. "We are inflicting greater losses than we are taking. . . . Overall progress is being made. . . . I think our aims in Vietnam have been very clear from the beginning. . . . That is, namely, to protect the security of the United States. . . . Secondly, to resist aggression. . . ."

On criticism of his Vietnam policies:

"There is a difference between constructive dissent and storm-trooper bullying, howling, and taking the law into their own hands. . . . But I don't think it is unusual for a president to be criticized. That seems to be one of the things that goes with the job."

On the 1968 presidential election:

"Whatever interpretation Hanoi might make that would lead them to believe that Uncle Sam—whoever may be president—is going to pull out and it will be easier for them to make an inside deal with another president, then they will make a serious misjudgment. . . ."

On whether he will run for reelection:

"I will cross that bridge when I get to it."

On the announcement of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota that he is considering opposing Johnson in some Democratic presidential primaries:

"I don't know what Sen. McCarthy is going to do. I am not sure that he knows what he plans to do. We had better just wait and see."

Announce

Xmas Parade

The retail division of the Chamber of Commerce has designated next Friday as the beginning of the Christmas season and outlined plans yesterday to open it up with a Christmas parade down Pennsylvania ave.

The parade has been scheduled to begin at 4 p.m. on the 24th in front of the Warren National Bank office at Pennsylvania and Cedar. The line of marchers will proceed down Pennsylvania ave. to Liberty, up Liberty to Third, west on Third to Poplar, south on Poplar to Pennsylvania ave. and east again to Santa's house, which will be set up at the end of the Hickory st. bridge.

Included in the lineup are the Warren High School band, the L.O.O.F. Drum Corps color guard, the Warren Starlets, and of course Santa Claus, who will be riding in a car instead of a sled.

Children will be able to meet and greet Santa at his house at the end of the parade.

Britain Tense over Fate of the Pound

By ANTHONY LEWIS

LONDON—Britain last night was on the brink of devaluation of the pound or of steps toward a siege economy.

The public, which usually finds the fate of the pound an abstruse subject, last night shared the professional anxiety and desire to know what was going to happen.

Devaluation rumors were heard more often and became the subject of betting odds. Ladbrooke's quoted 6 to 41 against devaluation.

Social Security

Bill Gets a Push

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate agreed yesterday to limit debate on amendments to the Social Security bill and to push for passage next Wednesday, before Congress' Thanksgiving recess.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana won the agreement after the Senate rejected two changes proposed by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt.

The House passed a bill in August that would increase benefits by 12.5 per cent and raise the monthly minimum from $44 to $50 effective the second month after the legislation becomes law—probably meaning Feb. 1.

Under the Senate bill, a 15 per cent increase and an increase in minimum payment to $70 would take effect March 1. So the date and amount of increases will have to be worked out in a Senate-House conference.

President Johnson originally proposed a 15 per cent increase effective last July 1.

84 Per Cent Of Wives Use Contraception

By JANE E. BRODY

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK—Eighty-four per cent of married American women report they have used contraception, and 6 per cent more say they expect to use it in the future, according to a national survey.

Results of the survey, conducted in 1965 among a representative sample of 5,600 women, were disclosed yesterday. In a similar survey 10 years earlier, 70 per cent of married women said they had used contraception.

The two sociologists who analyzed the new survey's findings have concluded that "the norm of fertility control has become universal" in contemporary America.

The sociologists, Dr. Charles Westoff of Princeton University and Dr. Norman Ryder of the University of Wisconsin, said that the greatest change in attitude toward, and use of, contraception has occurred among college-educated Catholic women.

In 1960, a survey showed that only 39 per cent of these women were favorable toward birth control—less than that for any other educational category, the sociologists said. "Five years later the proportion reached 67 per cent," they added.

Delay Decision on Mideast Proposals

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council yesterday afternoon agreed to a weekend delay in voting on three rival proposals for a Middle East settlement.

The next meeting will be Monday afternoon.

The proposals all would have U.N. Secretary-General U Thant send a special representative to the Middle East to work for a settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict. But they differ over how he should go about it and what form the settlement should take.

Detroit Without Any Daily Paper

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Free Press suspended publication indefinitely Friday "because of continued violations of joint contracts by various unions."

The morning daily newspaper thereby joined The Detroit News hit by a Teamsters strike, in halting the presses, leaving the nation's fifth largest city without a publishing daily newspaper.

Truckers Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ninety steel hauling trucks were reported on strike yesterday against a company they claim fired a driver.

A spokesman for the union said pickets marched at terminals in Wexford, Pittsburgh, Chicago and Detroit.

The strike was aimed at B&P Motor Express of Pittsburgh. The union said the company fired William Dean for refusing to take a load of steel.

The Times of London, in an editorial in today's editions, throws its weight behind devaluation as inevitable.

A fearful day in the foreign exchange markets, with the country's reserves pouring out by the millions, confronted the government with the need for immediate action. The cabinet was expected to make the decision over the weekend, before the markets reopened.

Two alternative plans were believed to be emerging. One possibility was a modest devaluation, perhaps a cut in the value of the pound from its present $2.80 to $2.50 or $2.40. Along with that would go a foreign loan of about $1 billion to stabilize the exchange situation.

Another course would be a larger loan from abroad, as much as $3 billion to $5 billion, without devaluation. But along with that the British government would have to accept stringent conditions for tightening of the domestic economy.

The lending bankers would insist on slashes in government spending, especially for welfare purposes. There might well have to be a renewed freeze on wages. Another measure could be strict quotas on imports.

The choice was a grim one for Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government.

For three years, Wilson has called on the British people for sacrifice to save the pound. It would be a political disaster for him now to say that all this had been ineffective.

But it would be equally painful for Wilson if the world's central bankers insist—as the price of a big loan to forestall devaluation—on drastic cuts in government spending and a tighter clamp on the economy. The public is already restive at the level of unemployment here.

What had looked a few days ago to be only another in a series of troubled periods for the pound has mushroomed into the worst crisis of the last few years—and a genuine threat to Wilson's government.

Welsh Greet Lord With Time Bomb

CARDIFF, Wales (AP)—A bomb blast in a civic building and hundreds of peering demonstrators greeted Princess Margaret's husband here yesterday in a Welsh nationalist outburst against English royalty generally and Prince Charles, Prince of Wales.

The bomb exploded in Cardiff's Temple of Peace shortly before Lord Snowdon arrived for a conference on expensive three-month celebrations that will surround Charles' formal investiture in Wales in the summer of 1969.

Heard more than a mile away, the explosion shattered the doorway and hall of the building. Police traced it to a homemade time bomb hidden on a shelf inside the entrance.

Borough Council Will Meet Tuesday

Warren borough council meets in adjourned session at 5 p.m. in Tuesday in chambers. The session will consider the proposed 1968 budget and a resolution approving filing an application for swimming pool funds.

The latter move results from approval by the voters of a state bond issue which could make funds available for recreation projects to be constructed on Project 70-owned land.

Tip-Offs Alleged

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A deputy state attorney charged yesterday that police in some local communities tip off liquor establishments of impending Liquor Control Board investigations.

County Board Tallies Votes Of Absentees

The county board of elections counted the absentee ballots in the Nov. 7 election yesterday and although the margin of victory in Warren's Fourth Ward Council seat race was trimmed, the count resulted in no changes.

For county commissioner there were 125 votes for Dr. David K. Rice, 60 for Blain M. Mead, 86 write-in votes for James G. Marshall, 49 for Thomas Donnelly and 20 for Chester Walker. Rice, Donnelly and Mead are still the apparent winners; although it won't be official until Monday after a recount is taken of write-in votes for Marshall.

In the Fourth Ward council contest won by Anthony Gorfida, the winner picked up one absentee vote for a grand total of 159, while his opponent, Joseph Bevevino received three absentee votes raising his count from 151 to 154.

The only other close contest was in Farmington twp. where Arvid Gruber was elected supervisor over Weston Wilcox 130 to 127. Both received four votes in the absentee ballot count.

Tax Hike Chances Slim, Admits LBJ

By EILEEN SHANAHAN

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — President Johnson conceded yesterday that there was "no indication whatever" that Congress would enact a tax increase this year. But he warned members of Congress—identifying several by name—that they would "ruin the day" if they made the "dangerous" and "unwise" decision to block it.

At his news conference, the president also raised the threat that the budget deficit for this year might go as high as $35 billion, if taxes are not increased. This is $5 billion more than any administration official has estimated earlier. Johnson did not explain the

Youth Charged in Jamestown Thefts

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — Earl John Clark Jr., 16, 119 Steele st., has been charged by city police with petit larceny in the theft of $50 from several parking meters in downtown Jamestown.

Chief of Detectives Richard Ream said some 50 meters were broken into last Friday and Saturday. Twenty-two of the damaged meters were in the upper tier of the Cherry st. parking lot while the remaining meters were scattered on Second, Fourth and Fifth sts.

The youth will face city court action on the charge.

City police also report another 16-year-old boy, being held in the county jail in Mayville on a car theft case, has admitted taking part in the parking meter theft in Jamestown. No charges have been placed against the second youth. Total damage to the meters has been estimated by Jamestown police at more than $100.

Hanoi Said Hit By U.S. Missiles

HANOI, North Vietnam — (Agence France-Presse)—Officials reported that four United States missiles exploded in Hanoi yesterday. One hit the grounds of the Soviet military attaché's residence, they said, and another killed an Indian sergeant of the International Control Commission.

The two others exploded in residential areas, officials said.

The missiles were identified as Shrikes, air-to-ground fragmentation devices.

Arrest Follows

Midair Explosion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI arrested a Naperville, Ill., man yesterday in connection with a bomb explosion last Sunday aboard a Chicago-to-San Diego airliner which carried his wife among the 74 passengers.

Earle Theodore Cook, 37, manager of a bottling firm in St. Charles, Ill., was arrested by FBI agents.

The American Airlines airliner landed safely at San Diego after the explosion in the baggage compartment. None of the passengers or crew of six was injured.

Local Nursing Home Owner Feels 'Visits' Not Needed

Nursing homes operated for profit, non-profit homes and public facilities such as county homes may be faced soon with on-site visits to determine compliance with the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act and Title VI of the Federal Civil Rights Act, of 1964.

Area nursing homes, such as Keystone Nursing Home at 1109 Pennsylvania ave., E., have been asked to adopt an admission policy which indicates the home to admit and to treat all patients without regard to race, creed, national origin or religious creed.

The first visits will be made to nursing homes receiving vendor payment under Medical Assistance Post Hospital Care program during 1967 in Allegheny, Beaver, Chester, Dauphin, Delaware and Philadelphia counties. Following these visits, other nursing homes with similar setups will be surveyed in other counties.

W. V. Coombs of Keystone Nursing Home stated his facility is not participating in the program since it would cost guests $5 more a day for nursing home care. He added that neither Keystone nor other nursing homes in Warren county have ever practiced discrimination in any form.

The state secretary of Public Welfare, Dr. Thomas W. Georges Jr., in a communication received by Coombs, requested a patient census report as of November 10 to include the following information: Race and Color, including white, Negro, Indian, Spanish figure. He merely said that the deficit could range between $30 billion and $35 billion.

An official of the Bureau of the Budget said, however, that the $5 billion increase represented the possible extra costs to the government of the higher interest rates and further tightening of credit that is foreseen without the tax rise.

Johnson criticized Congress, more directly than he has in the past on this issue, for refusing "to stand up and do the unpopular thing of assuming responsibility that men in public life are required to do sometimes."

Johnson said that Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House Republican leader, and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, had made "great mistakes" in deciding against acting on the tax bill this year.

The reaction by Rep. Ford to the President's criticism was scornful. He said that such an attack was "natural for a man about to go into bankruptcy."

"I say Lyndon Johnson will rue the day that he promoted a $30 billion to $35 billion budget deficit in fiscal 1968 and four successive deficits totaling nearly $24-billion in the years '64 to '67," Ford added.

ROTC Team Loses To SDS Leftists

By MCCANDLISH PHILLIPS
(C) N. Y. Times News Service
PRINCETON, N. J. — A bearded quarterback wearing gold rimmed spectacles led a team of left-wing Princeton students—members of the Students for a Democratic Society—to victory yesterday in a game of touch football over a team of prospective militarists.

The S.D.S., team won, 3 to 2, over a team composed of members of the Army and Navy Reserve Officer Training Corps units on the campus. It was probably an upset, though no one could be quite certain of that, since both teams were formed earlier in the week.

The R.O.T.C. men had challenged the antiwar faction to meet them in the game.

Suspected Chief Of Gestapo Freed

PANAMA (AP)—Francis Willard Keith, a shabby peddler held since Tuesday on suspicion that he was Heinrich Mueller, last chief of the Nazi Gestapo, was set free provisionally yesterday.

German police want further examination of Keith's past. A spokesman for the National Department of Investigation said Government Minister Fabian Velarde ordered the release after the department's investigations chief, Hector Valdes, advised him that evidence showed Keith had been in Panama since 1942.

Hovey, former director of the Butler University Concert Band. The meeting was sponsored by the Edinboro music department.

American, Oriental and the like. The form also asks if the person is native or foreign born and queries as to religious beliefs.

Coombs said Keystone had never found it necessary to ask these questions of patients entering the home since it would make no difference as to admission.

Keystone was advised that in the near future a representative from the Office for the Aging, Dept. of Public Welfare, will make an on-site survey of the home to determine compliance with Pennsylvania and Federal government acts regarding non-discrimination.

According to Coombs, he has talked with owners of other nursing homes and found they, too had been contacted. The representative is to have other material available to her, according to the communication; two copies of admission policy; two copies of any press releases, advertisements, notices, letters, administrative policies, directives to staff which establish admission policies made known to the community as well as waiting list, if any, showing information described in the suggested patient census report.

In speaking for himself, Coombs emphasized the fact he felt the entire program was unnecessary, at least in Warren County and suggested it could possibly cause more civil rights tension than diminish them, merely by asking the prescribed questions.

Black Power March Erupts into a Riot

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
PHILADELPHIA — A Black Power demonstration by more than 3,500 pupils from this city's 10 predominantly Negro high schools erupted into a riot yesterday.

For more than an hour, the demonstrators threw rocks, upset barricades, raced over the tops of automobiles, assaulted passersby and fought with some 400 policemen.

Most of the trouble occurred outside the board of education's administration building at 21st Street and Benjamin Franklin Parkway. Fighting spilled over into side streets, and groups of rioters tried to enter city hall and the main police headquarters, but were repulsed.

The police finally restored order after 58 persons were arrested and three or four injured. Seventeen of the alleged rioters were arrested.

The president of the school board, Richardson Dilworth, blamed the police for triggering the disorders. He charged that the demonstration was being kept under control by plainclothesmen until Police Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo, "Without our request, set loose a couple of hundred men swinging clubs and beating children."

Rizzo replied that he had warned the school board in advance that trouble was brewing and advised the board to obtain a court injunction against the demonstration.

Rocky Thinks John's Running

By JAMES F. CLARITY
(C) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller told close political associates recently that he believed Mayor John V. Lindsay had begun his own campaign for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968.

"There's no question about it," a high Republican source said, "Nelson thinks John is running."

The most recent indication of Lindsay's intentions, the governor is said to believe, is the purported involvement of one of the mayor's top political aides in a movement to draft Rockefeller for president.

Rockefeller's strategists have convinced him, sources close to the governor said, that the draft movement is actually an attempt to characterize him publicly as a candidate for the nomination, thus giving conservative Republicans the opportunity to criticize him openly.

The Lindsay strategy, according to the governor's advisers, would then enhance the mayor's status as an acceptable, and available, compromise candidate for the nomination.

Romney Announces His Big Decision

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan Gov. George Romney will end his "long, hard look" at the presidency today and announce whether he will bid for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

The 60-year-old governor will make his presidential intentions known at a news conference at 11 a.m.

There are few doubts that the former auto executive's answer will be "yes."

stration leaders. He said the trouble never would have occurred if the board had heeded his advice.

The demonstration was sparked by the supposed suspension of 16 students from the Bok Technical Vocational High School for taking part in a demonstration last Monday in support of demands that the school teach a course in Negro history.

A school board spokesman said that only 12 students had been involved in the demonstrations, and that none had been suspended. He also said the board had promised to teach the Negro history course.

About 200 police cars, nearly half of those in service in the city, were used by the police. Police also were transported to the trouble scene in buses, in accordance with a plan formulated months ago to meet just such an emergency.

By 1:30 p.m. most of the rioting was over.

The rioting had started at about 12:30 p.m., when two policemen tried to escort one youth, whom they had picked up for alleged disorderly conduct, to a police vehicle.

Some of the demonstrators picked up a police barricade and tossed it into the air. It landed among some spectators. Rizzo stepped in to ask why the youth had been arrested. Immediately the crowd surged around him and several other police officers. A punch was thrown, and then the policemen began shoving their way out of the crowd, using night sticks.

Within moments the fighting broke out.

Escaped Injury

A Grand Valley area woman escaped injury in a two-car crash in Corry, Wednesday. City police there said a car driven by James Egler, of Pittsburgh and one operated by Kathryn L. Ongley, 18, RD 1, Grand Valley were involved. Total damage was listed at $575.

Several New Scout Troops Forming in County

Scouting, which has enjoyed a continued and growing interest in Warren County, grew by leaps and bounds this week with the announcement of the formation of a number of new troops.

Emery Mahan is sponsoring a new Automotive Specialty Explorer Post. The program is centered on adult-type activities. The young men in this new post will join in projects and instruction directly related to the operations connected with Mahan Motors sales and service.

The activities include actual experiences in all phases of auto mechanics and sales under leadership of Barry Irwin, a member of the Mahan Motors staff. Areas of interest to explorers are auto mechanics, auto-body repair, highway safety, auto parts management, new and used car sales, and other special projects. The program is available to interested young men between the ages of 14 and 17, in conjunction with Chief Cornplanter Council Boy Scouts of America.

Any boys, and their parents, interested in knowing about this explorer post program are invited to attend a meeting next Tuesday evening, November 21, at 7:30 in the conference room of the Pennsylvania Gas Company, 213 Second ave.

The new post is in line with established explorer posts, which concentrate on some vocational specialty in real interest to youths of explorer age.

Officials of the Sheffield Volunteer Fire Department meet Monday evening at 7 at the fire hall with representatives of the Chief Cornplanter Council, Boy Scouts of America, to discuss possibilities of sponsoring a Fire Service Specialty Explorer Post.

And in Grand Valley, the Evangelical United Brethren Church announces formation and sponsorship of a new Boy Scout Troop for young men of the area.

Already 18 charter members have enrolled. More are expected to join at a meeting called for Tuesday, November 28 at the church, to which boys between the ages of 11 through 14, parents, and other interested adults are invited.

At a meeting with parents Tuesday, November 14, District Scout executive John Kloos presented the over-all Scouting program and organization of a Boy Scout Troop.

George Lynch is Scoutmaster for the new troop. He has a number of years experience as a Scoutmaster before coming to Grand Valley.

Those already enrolled as committee members are: Robert Graham, The Rev. Elwin Sheerer pastor of the sponsoring organization; Cleo

State Jobless Claims Rise During Week

HARRISBURG (AP) — Initial claims for unemployment compensation rose 1,732 to 14,918 in the week ended Nov. 10, the Labor and Industry Department reported yesterday.

The increase was attributed to a rise of joblessness in the construction, trade and primary metals industries.

At the same time, the department said that recalls in transportation equipment and electrical machinery accounted for a drop in continued claims of 469 from the preceding week, to 51,115.

Both categories were up over the comparable week of 1966, initial claims of 14,318 comparing with 13,444 a year ago, and the 57,115 continued claims comparing with 42,844 in the same week of last year.

CHECK SYSTEM FAULTED

Northern Area Audit Done

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau)

HARRISBURG — Total expenditures by the Northern Area Joint School during the school year ending June 30, 1966 totaled $846,129, according to an audit by the State Auditor General's Department just completed and forwarded to the Governor's Office.

The state audit of the jointure contained the following findings:

"It was noted disbursements were not supported by school orders, and only two signatures appeared on checks. We have again recommended compliance with Sections 427, 433, 439, 607 of the School Code in establishing a system of orders or checks signed by the president, secretary and treasurer."

"Our review of cash receipts and disbursements indicated certain expense recoveries were included as nonrevenue receipts. We have recommended these recoveries be posted as reductions of the applicable expenses."

Cable Hollow Area News

By MRS. FLOYD SUMNER

The Missionary Society of the Cable Hollow E.U.B. church held their Nov. meeting at the home of Mrs. Lyle Moore, with the president, Mrs. Kenneth Craker in charge. A box was packed for the American Indians in Arizona.

The society decided to pack boxes for patients at the State Hospital and for boys in the service.

An election of officers was held with results as follows: President—Mrs. Kenneth Craker; vice president—Mrs. Donald Zimmerman; secretary—Mrs. Elton Cable; treasurer—Mrs. Preston Cathcart; secretary of spiritual life—Mrs. John Clark; secretary of social relations—Mrs. Clair McCullough.

The Youth Fellowship went to Buffalo Youth Time Christian Center on Saturday. Five adults, Mrs. James Burford, Mrs. Robert Burford, Mrs. Preston Cathcart and Mr. and Mrs. John McGinn accompanied the 17 youths. They enjoyed roller skating, ping pong, bowling, swimming and a movie, "Jess Moody Story".

Mrs. Lyle Moore and Mrs. James Burford celebrated their birthdays on Sunday with a dinner in the Colonial Room of Hotel Jamestown. Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Moore and Mr. and Mrs. James Burford were present. Mr. and Mrs. James Burford also celebrated their 19th wedding anniversary.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sumner were Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Nichols (the former Nancy Wellacher) and baby boy Shawn, Jamestown, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Tilyou, Cassadaga, N.Y., Miss Evelyn Sumner, Sheffield, Mrs. Eva Gage and Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Gage.

A Thanksgiving Fellowship dinner is being planned for Saturday evening 6:30 p.m. at the Cable Hollow church house. Each family is being contacted for a turkey. The church is furnishing the turkey and potatoes.

Expenditures for the jointure during the school year were broken down in the audit as follows:

Administration—$25,525; instruction—$426,615; health services—$7973; pupil transportation—$74,079; school plant maintenance—$12,086; fixed charges—$31,527; student body activities—$2281; capital outlay—$14,593; debt service—$171,701; outgoing transfer (tuition payments to Pennsylvania school districts or boards)—$399.

On the other hand, reimbursements and subsidies during 1966 (for 1965 — subsidies are paid

SEVERAL PROGRAMS CONDUCTED

Forest Service Activities

(A three in one special)

Lee K. Kelley, supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest, is in Harrisburg today attending the quarterly meeting of the U.S. Department of Agriculture State Defense Board.

Meanwhile, more than 200 national forest employees completed an intensive defensive driving course and officials at the Buckaloons laboratory wound up a twoday management training session for the forest management group.

Kelley is in the state capital to give a report on rural fire defense in Pennsylvania, based on test exercises conducted by defense boards in all of Pennsylvania's 67 counties.

Last May 19, Kelley was host to the Pennsylvania State U.S. Department of Agriculture Defense Board, which met at the Forestry Sciences Laboratory at Buckaloons. The board meetings are usually held in Harrisburg.

Kelley observes that the entire state is covered by the rural fire defense program. In case of a national or regional disaster or nuclear attack, State and Federal agencies involved, in cooperation with local fire departments and other civil defense units, become the rural fire defense arm of the Office of Civil Defense.

The U.S.D.A. Defense boards are not only concerned with protecting people living in rural areas from fire and nuclear damage, but are responsible as well for procurement and distribution of food resources during an emergency.

Warren County Rural Defense Board includes representatives from Allegheny National Forest, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service and Farm Home Administration.

Prior to leaving, Kelley and assistant supervisor Don Gorton completed a group training program for the entire primary staff and rangers at the Forestry Sciences Laboratory at Irvine.

Don Percival, employee development specialist in the division of personnel of the U.S. Forest Service at regional headquarters in Milwaukee also participated as a consultant.

The training session was attended by the supervisor's staff and rangers from all four districts, and their assistants.

As explained by Don Gorton, this was the first session under a rather new management development program for the Forest Service. It is an organizational development program based on the concept of the "managerial grid" developed by Black and Mouton of Scientific Methods Inc., management consultants.

Conducting the defensive driving courses were forest technicians Ronald Felton of Sheffield ranger district, and Forest Corey, Marienville ranger district. Both are accredited to conduct defensive driving courses by National Safety Council. The program was developed by the Council, and offered only with instructors trained and accredited by the National Safety Council. Both Felton and Corey completed special instructor training courses during July at the national headquarters of the Safety Council in Chicago.

Cub Scout Pack Ten of Holy Redeemer Church started off the winter season this week with a meeting at the church.

Awards were presented to: Den One—Sam Pascuzzi, wolf badge; James Mundi, Patrick McDunn, Daniel Berdine, Robert Hearty, Daniel Kondak, bobcat pin; Den Two—David Cox, wolf badge; Drew Lyle, Stephen Meacham, John Morrison, bobcat pin; Richard Skiff, gold Arrow; Den Three—James Wood Mark Zingone, James Neall, Roger Whitner, Curtis Upinger, Stephen Sundberg, Thomas Allen, Scott Zaffino, bobcat pins; Den Five—Mike Christie and Mark Christie, Bear Badge.

Roger Skiff is Cubmaster of Pack Ten with Orren Wood assistant.

Wealth of Fluid

Black gold, the Indian rockoil that has for slightly over 100 years flowed from the rock strata in most sections of the county, has contributed immensely to the present position of our economy and recently drilled wells are increasing the extent of this wealth daily.

But oil is an exhaustible resource. At some time in the future the wells will pump dry and attempts to find untapped reservoirs will fail. A valuable source of economic strength will be lost.

So it is heartening to learn that we have been provided another source of wealth that will bolster our economy so long as we protect it from pollution and contamination. For suitable industrial water is becoming scarce in our fast expanding nation and in the not too distant future every gallon of water stored behind the concrete earthen structure will have a specific monetary value.

Many things will contribute toward establishing this cash value.

Our population is growing faster than expected. In 1940 it was estimated that our population in 1975 would be 175 million. Today we estimate that it will be 200 million or more. These people will not only require more water to live, but will constitute an expanded market for food (irrigation uses 100 billion gallons per day) and a greater demand for industrial products.

Industry, already faced with water shortages in the larger industrial centers, will find expansion possibilities limited without seeking out new locations where adequate water supplies are available.

Examples of industrial requirements are: 18 barrels of water to refine a barrel of oil; 300 gallons of water to make a barrel of beer; 10 gallons of water to refine one gallon of gasoline; 250 tons of water for one ton of sulfide pulp wood; and 600 to 1000 tons to water for each ton of coal burned in a steam power plant.

Stored water is also valuable as a basis for the development of a recreation-based economy.

And, because the waters stored in the Kinzua Dam will be of no use to industry and of only partial use to the recreationist until released in the river, the value of river-frontage property will increase, providing an improved tax base.

Water will be our fluid wealth of the future.

Therefore, we should be grateful that nature and our geographical location have provided this boon in such abundant proportions.

Storm Warnings Are Out

HARRISBURG — While Gov. Shafer continues to boom for a $1.7 billion in taxes, the fiscal conservatives have been laying out the storm warnings and, one by one, are hoisting them up the flag pole.

"It is time to define our priorities," Arthur F. Sampson, the Governor's secretary of administration said here this week.

Meanwhile, Arthur C. Eckerman, the Governor's director of personnel has given the front office projections which show that the Commonwealth's manpower needs for "sometime around 1970" will rise to 125,000. Present Commonwealth employment hovers around 102,000; in 1956, it was 80,000.

Sen. Richard C. Frame, who doubles as Venango County's Republican Chairman, is nursing a bill through the legislature to abolish all boards and commissions by July, 1971, and start from scratch. This measure had no trouble getting past the Senate, 33-10.

It was the same Sen. Frame who just this week cracked down on an item of $56,000, earmarked for closed circuit television for the Constitutional Convention. This gesture will hold down "present" estimates for the three-month convention to $1,560,880. In the debate last spring over whether the convention should be held, the figure flirts but weighed in at $500,000. . . $375,000 for delegates' salaries and a bill and a quarter for incidentals!

A Constitutional Convention is once and done. But Sampson is more concerned with the continuing costs of State government. The Administration Secretary projects the State's commitments to $2.05 billion by 1970. On the basis of present revenues, he foresees a gap of $200 to $300 million annually.

Sampson—who cut his public service teeth in Erie politics and won his managerial spurs at the General Electric plant there—is understandably wary about pinpointing the specific causes for Pennsylvania's growing governmental budget. But his comments last week before a State Chamber of Commerce panel tiptoe through several tulip patches.

"In Pennsylvania our state supported colleges are requesting $39 million dollars over last year. And," he said, "we can no longer afford the luxury of these institutions expanding at will.

"Our public schools are subject to population explosion. . . . But," he asked, "are we educating beyond our needs at given age levels? What specialized facilities can wait? What quality substitutes now exist?"

"This line of thought applies to all fields. . . . Mental care, health, and urban problems to name a few.

"We cannot afford the ideal," says Sampson. "Surely it would be best to have two nurses for each mental patient, or next summer eliminate and rebuild low cost housing in all of our slum areas. We simply cannot afford it."

The trouble, says Sampson, is that "newer, more controversial programs get the pruning knife because they seem to be the cause of the deficit. . . . (We) leave untouched the self-perpetuating programs that were responses to yesterday's problems."

Mr. Sampson, and other fiscal experts, have raised some colorful warning flags. Gov. Shafer is watching carefully to see who salutes.

MEASLES

Safe, Effective Vaccine Protects Your Children

There are two kinds of measles. Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, reports that the kind of measles against which the vaccines protect is known as rubella, "common measles," or the "seven-day" or "10-day" measles, or the "red" measles.

In rubella, there is a pronounced, long-lasting rash, usually associated with symptoms of illness for three or four days before the rash appears, such as fever and coughing.

The other kind of measles, rubella, is known as "German measles" or "three-day" measles. Rubella's rash is less pronounced, and there are few pre-rash symptoms. However, if a woman contracts rubella during the first three months of pregnancy, it can affect the fetus and result in birth defects.

An effective and safe vaccine is now available for rubella or red measles. It produces only a few minor reactions, but in return provides almost complete protection which may last a lifetime. If all children between ages of 1 to 9 who have not already had measles or a dose of live virus measles vaccine could be immunized, measles could be eradicated from the United States. Vaccine can be administered by your doctor in his office or during measles vaccination campaigns.

The vaccine against German measles is not yet ready for general use. An effective one appears to have been developed but research must still solve the problem of making it in sufficient quantity to meet present needs. It should be available in another year or two.

Did Hershey Do Right?

WASHINGTON—Gen. Louis B. Hershey has decided to draft all students who are against the draft. While this is a noble idea, I think he's asking for more trouble than it's worth. We take you to Camp Lookum, the basic training camp nearest to Berkeley where a drill sergeant has been called in by his colonel to explain why his platoon doesn't seem to be showing too much military acumen.

"Sergeant, your platoon has the worst record of any platoon on this base. How do you explain it?"

"It's not my fault, sir. It's Gen. Hershey's. He drafted all these antidraft draftees and they're driving me up the wall."

"How?"

"Well, to give you an example: the other morning I came in the barracks and announced we were going on a 20-mile hike. They all started chanting, 'Hell no! We won't go! Hell no! We won't go!'

"I got mad and started to kick their butts in, so they all stretched out on the floor and announced they were holding a lie-in. Every time I called attention they went limp. I tell you, sir, it's driving me out of my mind."

"Haven't you threatened them with punishment?"

"It doesn't do any good. When I threaten them, they accuse me of having a sadistic military mind, but they insist they love me."

"What?" the colonel splutters.

"Yes, sir. They say they love me, and whenever I kick their butts in they give me a daffodil."

"Where the hell do they get daffodils?" the colonel shouts.

"Their friends send them to them. The other day we were out on the bayonet course and they started handing out daffodils to another platoon. I've been the laughing stock of the base ever since."

The colonel says, "I'll admit it sounds like you've got problems."

"You don't know what problems are, sir. On the drill field when we're marching in cadence, instead of shouting 'left, right, left, right' they yell, 'Make love, not war, make love, not war.' It just doesn't sound right from a military point of view, does it, sir?"

"I shouldn't think it does."

"The other night I handed out PX cards, and you know what they did? They burned them. I've been buying soap for them out of my own money ever since."

"That's good thinking, sergeant. What's that you're holding in your hand?"

"Those are petitions, sir. This one was drawn up by the Committee to Legalize VD, this one is the Ad Hoc Committee to Get Our Boys Out of Camp Lookum and this one I'd rather not say."

"What do you mean you'd rather not say? What is it?"

"Well, sir, this one is a petition to try you for war crimes."

"War crimes?"

"Yes, sir. They've called for a mass meeting at 3 o'clock in front of camp headquarters and they're going to burn you in effigy."

"I think I'd better call Gen. Hershey and ask him to reconsider his last order," the colonel says.

"That's a good idea, sir. I'd better get back to the platoon. When I left them they said they wouldn't make up their beds until Gen. Westmoreland apologized to Sen. Fulbright."

WILLIAM BUCKLEY

The Good Senator McCarthy

It looks as though Senator Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota is the chosen instrument through which left-leaning Democrats will commit damage on President Lyndon Johnson, and of course Senator McCarthy is splendidly qualified. On the one hand he is meticulously liberal—never ever has he erred in the direction of common sense, when the alternative was to vote liberal. On the other hand, he has managed not to get himself so far out on the left limb as to fall down and go kook, like Henry Wallace. When Mr. Wallace was fired from the Cabinet by President Harry Truman, it was generally accepted that he had become an ideological weirdo, as indeed he proved to be. History certifies that Mr. Wallace's third-party movement was dominated by the Communist Party of the United States, which means dominated by Joseph Stalin. Eugene McCarthy is not a type so easily taken over.

Now the difficulties. They are several. In case you didn't know it, Senator Eugene McCarthy is not a fan of Senator Robert Kennedy. Those who demand proof of that assertion cannot be satisfied. There is no proof, at least none of the kind you could discount with your local banker. It is generally remembered that at Los Angeles, at the Democratic Convention in 1960, the single most impassioned speech was by Eugene McCarthy—in favor of Adlai Stevenson. The Kennedy forces looked on, unamused. Not that they were afraid that Senator McCarthy, whose oratorical cadenza was dazzling in its beauty, could succeed in changing the prescribed outcome of the Los Angeles Convention, which was clearly Kennedy. But they did fear that Senator McCarthy's extraordinarily effective oratory might have the effect, on certain critically situated people, of suggesting to them that the nomination of John F. Kennedy, got him the nomination by wrestling action of John F. Kennedy had nothing whatever to do with democratic idealism, that, in fact, John Kennedy got himself the nomination by wrestling it from the truly qualified dauphin of democratic idealism, Adlai Stevenson.

But then Mr. Kennedy was not only nominated, but also elected; and which is important in purely political discussions—martyrized. It was well known that Senator Eugene McCarthy wanted most anxiously to be nominated as vice president in 1964, back when it was not known, until the very last minute, just whom Lyndon Johnson would designate as vice president. Mr. Johnson, exercising his pathological concern for secrecy, invited Hubert Humphrey, Thomas Dodd, and Eugene McCarthy to Atlantic City, suggesting to each in turn that the question was unsettled in his mind which of the three he would finally designate.

If Lyndon Johnson actually had made up his mind, he certainly succeeded in concealing the fact from the three postulants. I was there, at Atlantic City, when Senator Eugene McCarthy called a press conference, 24 hours before the designation of the vice president, at which press conference Senator McCarthy, who arrived 35 minutes late—always the sign of the successful, or at least optimistic politician—flirted coo-la-la with the press, suggesting that he was in a position positively to demonstrate his relative desirability as a vice presidential candidate.

How far, now, it has gone! Lyndon Johnson took himself another bride. Eugene McCarthy, who had held out against John Kennedy at Los Angeles found himself spurned by someone who, one might have thought, was at least an ally of convenience. Now Eugene McCarthy is offering himself to dissatisfied Democrats as the alternative to Lyndon Johnson. The instinctive assumption of professional observers is that Senator McCarthy is a part of Senator Bobby Kennedy's far-flung operations. In fact, this appears to be unlikely—Senator McCarthy retains a healthy disrespect for Senator Kennedy.

On the other hand, there is no doubting that Senator McCarthy's campaign is most likely to benefit Senator Kennedy. If Mr. McCarthy succeeds in draining a considerable vote away from President Johnson, then the chances of a Republican's succeeding to the White House are obviously augmented. And if the Republicans win in 1968, the influence of Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey at the Democratic Convention in 1972 will be, to search exactly for the right word, nugatory. The nominee would be, all things being otherwise equal, Kennedy.

Which is why, although the two gentlemen, Messrs. Kennedy and McCarthy, do not work together in tandem, nevertheless there is a pro-Kennedy symbiosis in the script viewed whole. Eugene McCarthy may well a) sink Johnson in '68, and b) elect Kennedy in '72. That is rather a lot for a dreamy Stevensonian to accomplish, wouldn't you agree?

JOSEPH ALSOP

... And Sentimentality

WASHINGTON: In the debate about solutions of the American race problems (and in a good many other areas as well), the time has clearly come to acknowledge the sharp conflict between common sense and silly sentimentality.

A good example is the case of Herman Ferguson, an able and hard-driving New York Negro who has risen to be assistant principal of a public school in Queens when he was arrested and indicted for conspiracy to commit murder. According to the charges brought by the police, Ferguson is a member of RAM—the Negro Revolutionary Action Movement, which is notoriously pledged to illegal violence.

Ferguson and 16 associates were rounded up in a group. A formidable arsenal, said to belong to Ferguson and the rest of the group, was found by the police. Fifteen other RAM members were charged with conspiracy to commit anarchy; but Ferguson and another associate were charged with conspiring to murder Roy Wilkins of the NAACP and the other leading Negro moderate, Whitney Young, of the Urban League.

Ferguson has denied the charge, and the case has not come to trial. But what matters in the Ferguson case, whether he be guilty or innocent, is what happened to him AFTER he was under an indictment of the gravest and most terrible character. Until purged of such an indictment, after all, the most respectable and guiltless leader of the white community would hardly be considered a suitable educator of the next generation.

Not so, however, in the case of Ferguson. Last summer the Ocean Hill-Brownsville School District in New York City—one of the experimental quasi-independent local school districts recently set up by the Board of Education—actually nominated Ferguson to become principal of one of its five schools.

In its terribly stuffy way, the New York Board of Education had already suspended Ferguson from his assistant principal's job in Queens. Still stuffy, the board also passed over Ferguson for the principal's job in Ocean Hill-Brownsville.

Not long thereafter, however, Ferguson turned up as an active member of the planning board of Intermediate School 201 in Harlem—the highly controversial new school which is another experiment in local school management within New York City. And he served in this capacity until just the other day, when the planning board was supplanted by an elected governing board.

There are two things to be said about this extraordinary case. In the first place, it suggests what is virtually certain to happen if Negro racists are permitted to gain control of the ghetto schools—as some people seem to desire them to do. The great mass of Negro parents in the ghettos merely want their children to get a decent education and are justifiably angry when the children do not get such an education. But the Negro racists—the hot-heads of the black power movement—are better organized than the decent mass of Negroes. And they want to turn the ghetto schools into institutions which will produce racist Young Pioneers, even junior guerrillas for their movement.

Again without regard to Ferguson's guilt or innocence, the people who chose him for the two posts described above did not make their offers to him despite the fact that he was under indictment. The offers were made, in some degree, because he was under indictment. That is a pretty bitter pill to have to swallow, but it is no more than a factual statement, indicating how far what is called polarization has gone in the United States.

As for the second thing to be said about this strange case, it concerns the extreme tenderness with which it has been treated. The facts have been recorded as the case developed, but that is about all.

Yet being a member of RAM—as Ferguson is said to be—is at least equivalent to being a member of the Ku Klux Klan. And imagine the racket one would have heard if an alleged Kluxer, also charged with conspiracy to murder, had twice turned up in very intimate association with important public educational experiments!

The reason for the difference in response to the case of an alleged Kluxer and the case of the alleged RAM member is simply the triumph of sentimentality over common sense. It is a usual enough phenomenon, nowadays. Think, for instance, of the public treatment of the so-called peace march on the Pentagon. Who has been told, for instance, that those noble-minded young militants, besieging the Pentagon through the night, responded to an organizer's signal (given by bullhorn) by jointly and commonly urinating in public as a fine protesting gesture?

Yet any fool should be able to forecast the eventual national reaction to the kind of sentimental permissiveness that the foregoing quite inadequately illustrates. And the reaction will come all too soon if the guilt-ridden sentimentalists do not get control of themselves before long.

There are two things to be said about this extraordinary case. In the first place, it suggests what is virtually certain to happen if Negro racists are permitted to gain control of the ghetto schools—as some people seem to desire them to do. The great mass of Negro parents in the ghettos merely want their children to get a decent education and are justifiably angry when the children do not get such an education. But the Negro racists—the hot-heads of the black power movement—are better organized

Conversational Counselling And Compost

BY BERNIE WINGERT

This is Farm-City Week, across the nation. . . it's scheduled for November 17 through 23rd. . . and it is designed to emphasize the interdependence that exists between rural and urban people. I much prefer to say between "country" and "town" myself. I've always been one to use the simple easy words. Even today I "talk" with a group—I don't "have dialogue" with them. Anyone who is anybody in the smarter circles is having "dialogue" you know.

Well nevertheless, how it's said isn't as important as what it is. Farm-City Week was organized on a national scale 13 years ago "to bring about better understanding between the rural and urban segments of society, in order to make a better America." This is certainly a worthwhile goal. Few people realize the truly close partnership that exists today between our town and country communities, or how greatly our economy depends on the mutual cooperation between the two.

Warren in recent years hasn't been a town that has felt any particularly close relationship to our farm people. This may be true because of the location—I don't know. But it is true that many Warren County farm people shop and buy equipment, supplies, etc. in Jamestown, Corry, and Titusville. I've always felt that it would be good to encourage some of this buying power to come to Warren.

What buying power am I talking about? In this county, not generally considered an agricultural area by any means, agricultural products had a value of more than $5 million this year. Although some of these products are consumed on the farm, actual cash receipts for the sale of Warren County farm products totaled $4.9 million. Dairy product sales at $3.2 million accounted for more than 65 per cent of the total. Meat animal products had sales of $611,000 and poultry product sales added $373,000 to the farm income.

Any industry bringing in more than $5 million annually is important to the economy of a county. Too bad that Titusville is in Crawford County, Corry is in Erie county, and Jamestown is in New York State.

I'll quit for today with just one more point—Agriculture today takes more steel, rubber, petroleum, trucks, tractors, and electricity than any other industry in the Commonwealth. Farmers and city dwellers have more closely related ties today than at any time during recent history. Land-use issues, dwindling food surpluses, and increased recreational activities in rural areas have created a need for better understanding and cooperation between all of us.

Now remember—I've just been talking, not having a DIALOGUE with you. I don't even call a spade a spade—I call it a long handled shovel.

Letter To The Editor

Warren Times-Mirror and Observer Warren, Penna. 16365

To the Editor:

Two recent letters attempted to justify the slaughter by our servicemen of hundreds of thousands of Vietnamese non-combatants. On the basis of the following evidence, however, justification would seem a trifle unlikely.

A Marine 2nd Lieutenant, whose letter appears in the Congressional Record of June 16, writes: "The real terrorists in Vietnam are the Americans and their allies. . . . From my own experience the terror and havoc that we spread makes the VC look like a Girl Scout picnic. Can you imagine what an isolated village looks like after it has been hit by over 500 750-pound bombs in a matter of seconds? Women, children, old men, cattle and every living thing is struck down without ever knowing from where their destruction originated. . . . We never found any dead soldiers but as is the custom in VC controlled areas all the dead were listed as VC killed in action."

A U.S. Air Force officer was quoted thus (in the Washington Post, July 19): "When we are in a blind like we were at Bagia, we unload on the whole area to try to save the situation. We usually kill more women and kids than we do the Viet Cong but the Government troops just aren't available to clean out the villages so this is the only answer. . . . Senseless, it's just senseless."

In the light of such evidence, I feel that we must all take the position of Cardinal Lercaro of Milan who declared our bombings in Vietnam to be a serious sin and cried out at the mockery of baptized Christians destroying the villages of unbaptized Vietnamese.

Dragons' O'Neil, Tundel On Section II All-Star Team

Four Others Selected for Second Team; Franklin Dominates Voting

Two Warren Area High School gridgers, Dan O'Neil and Steve Tundel, are first team selections on the 1967 Section II All-Star Football Team, as announced last night by the Meadville Tribune.

O'Neil, a 166-pound senior halfback, repeated as a first team choice on both offense and defense and junior fullback linebacker Tundel was a first team selection of the defensive unit.

Four other Dragons were named to the second All-Section team. Junior guard Tom Beckett won a berth on the second team offense unit and senior end Ray Lowe, junior tackle Tom Marti and junior line-backer Dane Sorensen, were selected to the second team on defense.

Conference champion Franklin dominated the voting, pulling down five first team of defensive positions and six defensive spots. Senior Tim Law was a first team choice at end on both units, as was junior tackle Bill Schell, senior guard Fred Blackhurst and junior quarterback Rolland Lawrence. Senior center Mike Welshans was another first team selection for the Knights. Senior Monte Baker was picked as a first team line-backer and Roland "Curly" Lawrence as a first team half-back on the defensive unit.

Runner-up Titusville had three first team offensive selections, senior tackle Barney McCracken, senior guard Dan Kalkbrenner and junior halfback Jim Romanizyn. Senior end Keith Cauvel was the lone Rock-et named to the first team defense.

Corry placed senior fullback Loren Stockton on the first offensive team and senior tackle Dan Corbett and senior half-back Sam Dubrosky on the first defensive unit.

Senior end Dean Henderson was the only Oil City player named to the first team and Meadville failed to place on either the first offensive or defensive units.

Warren's O'Neil and Law, Schell, Blackhurst, and "Bay" Lawrence of Franklin were named to both the first offensive and defensive team.

Schell, "Bay" Lawrence and Titusville's Romanizyn, all juniors, were the only underclassmen on the first team offense. Schell, Tundel and the two Lawrence brothers were the only juniors selected to the first team on defense.

Corry's Dan Taylor was named to the second team defensive secondary, the only sophomore honored.

O'Neil and Law were the only first team repeaters from the 1966 Section All-Stars.

Voting for the All-Section team was done by the head coaches at the six conference high schools and the newspapers in the respective towns.

The first team offensive line averages 189-pounds and the first team backfield averages 168-pounds. Titusville's McCracken is the biggest on the line at 200-pounds and Stockton of Corry, a 180-pound full-back is the heaviest in the backfield.

The five-man first team defensive line weighs in at a total 965 pounds, a 195-pound average. At 210, Corry's Corbett is the biggest. Tundel, a 186-pounder, is the heaviest in the secondary.

O'Neil and Tundel led WAHS to a third place finish in Section II play with a 3-2 record. O'Neil's running and alert play in the defensive secondary was also a major reason for the Dragons' 7-2 season mark. Tundel was a leader on defense throughout the season and came on strong as a blocking and running fullback for the Blue and White.

Balloting for the All-State team ends today and it is expected that The Associated Press will announce its selections early next week.

FIRST TEAM LINEBACKER

Warren's junior fullback Steve Tundel was selected to the Section II first team defensive unit at linebacker. A leader on defense for the Dragons, the 186-pounder was also a key factor on offense in the Blue and White's six-game victory string. He was named to the conference All-Star team by the head coaches and sportswriters in the six respective Section II towns. (Photo by Mahan)

ALL-SECTION REPEATER

Dan O'Neil, Warren Area High School's senior halfback, was named to the Section II All-Star team on both offense and defense yesterday, one of only two conference gridgers to be honored for the second straight year. A 166-pounder, O'Neil sparked the Dragons to a third place finish in the conference and a successful 7-2 season, including six straight victories. (Photo by Mahan)

BEBAN VS. SIMPSON

All The Marbles Riding On Bruin-Trojan Battle

By JACK STEVENSON — Associated Press Sports Writer LOS ANGELES (AP) — College football's highest stakes ride the line today when the UCLA Bruins battle to defend their No. 1 national ranking against the showdown challenge of neighboring Southern California.

Nothing neighborly can come out of the struggle in which the Pacific-8 championship and Rose Bowl bid are certain prizes with the national championship and Heisman Trophy as added incentive.

Calm, calculating Gary Beban, the UCLA's quarterback who runs or passes with equal excellence, and USC's fleet O. J. "Orange Juice" Simpson, the nation's leading rusher, rank high in the competition for the Heisman Trophy, emblematic of the nation's best.

UCLA took over the top spot in The Associated Press poll this week as the best club in the nation, but nevertheless USC rates as a three to four-point favorite in the intricately clash. Southern California dropped to No. 4 in the rankings with the 3-0 loss to Oregon State last week in the mud at Corvallis. That put the Trojans' record at 8-1 compared with 7-0-1 for the Bruins who were tied by the same Beavers.

The weatherman was indecisive this time. There could be showers before the game but he says it won't rain during the afternoon.

All tickets have been sold out for two weeks and one of the parking lots at the Coliseum will be opened at 7:30 a.m. to accommodate early arrivals in the anticipated crowd of 94,000 for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff of the nationally televised (ABC) struggle.

The Rose Bowl bid goes to the winner and UCLA could take it even with a tie. Asked how the Trojans plan to stop Beban, the No. 16 of UCLA, Coach John McKay of USC replied, "We just hope we can keep him from completing too many passes."

As for the Trojans' Simpson, Coach Tommy Prothro of the Bruins, declared, "I don't know if we can expect to stop him. I hope we slow him down." Prothro's clubs haven't lost to USC in his two years at the helm.

So with a good field, the prospects are for a high scoring affair and McKay has said he doesn't think his club can win if the score is low.

A major reason for this thought is UCLA's Zenon Andrusyshyn, the sophomore from Canada who has booted 11 field goals, his longest 52 yards. He also leads the nation in punting with a 44.7 average.

He has scored 60 points, six more than Simpson but six less than Beban.

Rikki Aldridge does the kicking for USC but doesn't have the distance of the Bruin booter.

USC's well muscled defense, spearheaded by linebackers Adrian Young and Jim Snow has held foes to a one touchdown average and leads the Pacific-8. UCLA, which leads in offense, is second in defense with line-backer Don Manning the key man.

USC holds the weight advantage with its offensive line averaging 225 and backs 187 to UCLA and 188 respectively for 2011. Defensively, the Trojans front wall averages 224, a 13-pound per man edge.

Beban, a calm field general, rates this the biggest game of a three-year career in which he has accounted for 5,108 yards in total offense. This season he has gained 295 rushing and 1,041 passing to figure in 17 touchdowns.

Simpson, in his first season after transferring from City College of San Francisco, has rushed for 1,238. He needs 202 more to equal the all-time USC single season mark set by Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett in 1965.

Bock Sees Losers Losing Again; Bears over Cards

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The nicest thing about a losing streak, says the intrepid pro football picker, is that someday it ends.

Admittedly, his experience is somewhat limited in the area of losing, but Old Reliable has been beaten often enough to know what Denver and Miami are going through right now.

The Broncos and Dolphins won their American Football League season openers and neither has won anything since. Denver has dropped nine straight, Miami seven in a row.

The pattern won't change this week. The propicker doesn't believe the Broncos can knock off Buffalo and he knows the Dolphins won't stop Oakland.

Last week's 7-3-2 record brought the season's log to 64-34—a .653 percentage. This week's picks, with all games Sunday:

AFL
New York 34, Boston 17—Patriots plan to start Don Trull at quarterback and the tough Jet defense should eat him up. New York's offense due for a big day.

Kansas City 27, San Diego 20—The Chiefs can't afford to lose if they want to stay in the Western race. They've outscored opposition 127-37 in sweeping last three. Chargers' John Hadl has passed for better than 200 yards in each of San Diego's eight games.

Buffalo 21, Denver 17—The loss-shackled Broncos get closer and closer to a victory but the Bills have beaten Denver nine straight times dating back to 1962 and both streaks will remain intact.

Oakland 30, Miami 10—The Raiders must win to protect their Western lead. They will. The Dolphins have settled on Bob Griese at quarterback but he's no match for Daryle Lamolina and the AFL's top defense.

NFL
Baltimore 31, Detroit 17—Colts are gunning for the first NFL undefeated season in 25 years and don't bet they won't get it. Johnny Unitas is running the league's top offense. Detroit's rookie flash, Mel Farr, is just running. He gained 197 yards against Minnesota last week.

Cleveland 27, Minnesota 17—Browns bounce back from last week's nightmare against Green Bay. Vikings have lost only once in last five weeks but look for NFL's leading rusher, Leroy Kelly, to end their prosperity.

Philadelphia 21, New Orleans 7—Saints' first NFL victory came against the Eagles two weeks ago but the home field edge should help Philadelphia reverse that one.

New York 28, Pittsburgh 14—Frank Tarkenton drove the Steelers wild in their first meeting and his 19 TD passes lead the league. The Giants won't need the schoolyard triple reverse they used to beat Pittsburgh last time.

Chicago 23, St. Louis 17—Bears might have solved their quarterback problem at last with Larry Rakestraw, who passed for three TDs and scored two others in romp against New York last week. Young Jim Hart will keep Cards close, but not close enough.

Green Bay 34, San Francisco 20—The 49ers have dropped three straight and blew a 14-3 halftime edge against Washington last week. Packers looked super with fill-ins Donny Anderson and Ben Wilson running wild against Cleveland.

Dallas 20, Washington 17—Always a cliffhanger. The last four games between these two have been decided by a total of 10 points. Give the edge to Don Meredith over Sonny Jurgensen, but not by much.

Pairings for Cage Tourney Announced

DELAND, Fla. (AP) — Pairings for the 1968 Hatter Invitational Basketball tournament were announced yesterday by Stetson University, the host school.

Morris Harvey of Charleston, W. Va., will meet St. Peter's of Jersey City, N.J., in the first game Jan. 2. Stetson faces High Point, N.C. in the second.

are listed as doubtful for the engagement. Defensive tackle Mike McBeth and offensive guard Don Coccoli suffered knee sprains against N.C. State. Senior fullback Dan Lucyk still is hobbled by a knee injury suffered two weeks ago against Maryland.

The Bobcats are directed by sophomore quarterback Cleveland Bryant, who is 12th in the nation in total offense with 1,046 yards passing and 341 rushing.

"Bryant can hurt you on the run as well as the pass," Paterno cautioned. "They'll do a lot of things offensively that will bother us."

This is the last game of the year for Ohio. Penn State plays traditional rival Pitt at Beaver Stadium in the regular season finale here next week.

Penn State Hosting Upset-Minded Ohio

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Penn State stakes its reputation as Eastern football's top team today when it plays host to Ohio University's Bobcats in a game in which the Lions have much to lose and nothing to gain.

An apprehensive Lion Coach Joe Paterno warned his squad against a false sense of security following last week's 13-6 victory over nationally ranked North Carolina State.

"Ohio U. has an alert, very well-coached football team," Paterno said on the eve of the contest. "They're young and aggressive and they figure to give us a lot of problems defensively."

Penn State, 6-2 on the year, vaulted into the national bowl picture with the victory over the Wolfpack, but any lapse against the Bobcats, or next week's opponent, Pitt, might nullify all the good will that's been gained.

Ohio University, located at Athens, Ohio, with a student enrollment of 16,315, clinched the Mid-American Conference championship last week with a decisive 31-7 victory over Bowling Green.

The Bobcats are taking their role as potential giant killer seriously in the first meeting ever between the two schools. "This is a prestige game for us," said Coach Bill Hess, whose club stands at 6-3 on the year. "This will be a great challenge for our squad. Penn State has great balance. Tom Sherman is an outstanding quarterback and their defense is solid."

Approximately 30,000 fans are expected in Beaver Stadium for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff on what may well be a wet playing field. A light snow fell in University Park yesterday and precipitation has been predicted for today.

Army Hopeful of Ending Jinx Against Pitt Today

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Army is expected to have little trouble breaking the Panther stadium jinx when the Cadets play Pittsburgh today.

The Panthers have 17 players on the injured list and even with a healthy team Pitt has managed only one victory in eight games.

Army is 7-1 and probably would have gone to the Sugar Bowl if the Pentagon hadn't ruled postseason bowls out. "They don't have any great individual stars," said Carl Kokor, who scouted the Cadets for Pitt, "but they do one thing well—WIN."

"They have one thing on their minds and they'll go through a brick wall to get it," he said. The Cadets also have a good defense, allowing only 63 points in eight games this season. Army has never won in Pittsburgh. The best it managed were ties in 1958 and 1960. But those were good years for the Panthers, and this one is not.

Pitt quarterback Bob Bazyak is expected to start after being out with a chipped bone in his ankle. But there are lots of question marks.

Coach Dave Hart was especially concerned about the availability of Mickey Depp, top defensive back and the No. 1 kickoff and punt return specialist. Depp suffered pulled muscles and ligaments in his right knee against Notre Dame last week and may not be able to play.

On top of the other troubles, Pitt had to practice in the mud and cold for most of the week. However, Hart said the club's spirit was good.

"It looks like they may have to play in bad weather so why not practice in it."

Other Key Contests For Colleges Today

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Editor Today's UCLA Bruins-Southern California Trojans clash headlines the weekend's college football action (see story this page), with the national championship and a berth in the Rose Bowl riding on the outcome, but key contests will also be played on other college gridirons today.

The Bruins still have a Nov. 25 date in Los Angeles with Syracuse, 6-2. The Orange, with a top All-America candidate in bull-dozing fullback Larry Csonka, still have high hopes of a bowl berth. They play today at Boston College, 2-5.

Kalbfus Slates Sighting-In Day Tomorrow

The Kalbfus Rod and Gun Club located on Chapman Dam Road will hold a sighting-in day for all hunters of the area tomorrow. The club range will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Members of the club will be on hand all day to help hunters properly sight-in their rifles and pattern their shotguns.

The club is offering this opportunity as a public service to hunters in this area as part of a nation-wide program conducted by the National Rifle Association. Hundreds of NRA affiliated clubs throughout the country are taking part in this program.

A correctly sighted-in rifle and shotgun is an important step to safe and accurate shooting and increases the percentage of clean kills, says Lyle Snayley, president of the Kalbfus Rod and Gun Club. Familiarization firing and knowledge of the point of impact of the gun being used adds enjoyment and safety to the fine sport of hunting.

Detailed information on sighting-in techniques and firing points for zeroing in will be available at the range. Hunters are requested to have all firearms unloaded and actions open when entering the range area.

Tiger Retains Light-Heavy Crown On 12th Round TKO over Rouse

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Dick Tiger retained his world light-heavyweight championship last night, winning on a technical knockout in the 12th round over challenger Roger Rouse of Montana.

Tiger caught Rouse with a solid right hand to the chin 12 seconds into the round as the 32-year-old challenger was moving toward him.

It was the third knockdown by the 38-year old champion and referee Jimmy Olivas stopped the fight.

Rouse's face was bloody from a bad cut over the right side of his mouth, the result of a punishing left hook that dropped him for the first time in the ninth round of a scheduled 15-round fight.

Tiger, making the second successful defense of the championship he won from Jose Torres in December, 1966, had a slight cut over his left eye and another minor slit on the bridge of his nose.

Through eight rounds the fight was fairly even between the champion from the new republic of Balfra, who weighed 168½ and the veteran Rouse 174½ from Anaconda, Mont.

But Tiger turned tiger in the ninth, followed with a second knockdown in the tenth with a terrific overhand right to the jaw. On both knockdowns Rouse managed to get to his feet before the mandatory count of eight was reached.

But there was no mandatory count for Rouse's final trip to the canvas. Tiger's short right caught Rouse coming in and dumped him like a sack of potatoes.

The referee did not bother to count.

Rouse, 32, was the No. 1 contender for the 175-lb division title and had been seeking a shot at the title for at least two years.

A standup-type fighter, he employed his height and longer reach to good advantage in the early rounds. He kept jabbing away with his left and on numerous occasions led with his right, several times jolting the champion.

The six-footer from the Big Sky country showed all kinds of gameness, fighting back each time after the knockdowns. He even made a close round out of the eleventh but was staggered by a powerful left hook flush to the chin. An instant before the bell sounded, he did not go down but he was hurt.

Rouse's badly cut lip was examined by a Nevada State Athletic Commission doctor between the tenth and eleventh rounds. The televised bout was permitted to go on but Roger's face was a bloody mess.

Tiger's first defense of his title was against former champion Torres in New York last May. He won both the title and the rematch by decisions in 15 rounds.

Tiger led on the scoring by all three judges. Antony Smercina had it 54-46, Ralph Mosca called it 53-44 and Harold Buck saw it 51-46. The Associated Press scored for Tiger 52-47.

Cunningham Carries 76ers to East Lead

By GORDON BEARD

Associated Press Sports Writer BALTIMORE (AP) — Bill Cunningham led Philadelphia past St. Louis 125-117 with a 38-point performance and Baltimore defeated Los Angeles 116-107 with a second-half rally in a National Basketball Association doubleheader last night.

The t-bill in the Civic Center attracted 11,394 fans, the biggest paying crowd ever to see basketball in Baltimore.

Gus Johnson and Don Ohl led the comeback for Baltimore, which trailed 67-53 early in the third quarter.

Johnson scored 29 points and grabbed 15 rebounds and Ohl added 25 points.

Los Angeles failed to score a field goal in the final four minutes after a layup by Jerry West pulled the Lakers to within 108-106.

Ohl scored the final three field goals as the Lakers missed four shots, had one blocked and committed two other errors which gave Baltimore the ball.

Elgin Baylor scored 29 points to lead the Lakers, who took a 63-53 halftime lead. West, playing with a protective guard on his left hand, which was broken earlier in the season, scored 23 points.

In the opener, Cunningham scored 22 of his points in the final period as Philadelphia regained the Eastern Division lead from Boston, which lost last night to the Cincinnati Royals.

Cunningham, who scored 13 points in the first half, sank 13 of 24 field goal attempts and was credited with 16 rebounds. He scored 13 points in less than 3½ minutes at the start of the last quarter.

Philadelphia, now 12-3 in the Eastern Division, blew a 16-point lead in the first half after running off a string of 12 consecutive points, and then had to hold off the Hawks in a second half with Wally Jones and Hal Greer on the bench after incurring their fifth fouls.

St. Louis, which suffered its third loss against 16 victories, was led by Lenny Wilkins with 26 points while Lou Hudson scored 15 in his first game while on leave from the armed services.

The Hawks pulled to within 104-102 inside the six-minute mark but a field goal and two free throws by Cunningham put the game out of reach.

Royals Win 120-119 Over Colts

BOSTON (AP) — Happy Hairston and Jerry Lucas sparked a late burst of five straight points which led the Cincinnati Royals to a 120-119 victory over Boston and knocked the Celtics out of first place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Hairston sank a free throw with 1:47 remaining to pull the Royals into a 114-114 tie, then took a pass from Connie Dierking and scored on a fast break moments later. Lucas followed with two free throws to make it 118-114 and the Celtics could never catch up.

Bill Russell hit a field goal in the final minute to close it to 118-116 and the Celtics had a chance to tie with 11 seconds left but Bailey Howell could sink only one of three free throw attempts.

Adrian Smith then sank two free throws for Cincinnati with four seconds left, and the Royals led John Havlicek's in unblemished for Boston's final basket at the buzzer.

The Celtics, who play at Philadelphia tonight, led the Eastern Division by half a game going into last night's action, but the loss coupled with the 76ers' 125-117 victory over St. Louis pushed Boston back into second place.

Tovar Inks '68

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Cesar Tovar, versatile most valuable player on the Minnesota Twins baseball squad, has signed his 1968 contract, the Twins announced yesterday.

Terms of the contract were not disclosed, but Tovar is believed to have signed for a figure between $15,000 and $18,000.

Two Surprise Teams Move Ahead at Scotch Tournery

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP) — Two unheralded teams grabbed the lead at the midway point yesterday in the $115,000 Haig Scotch golf championship by shooting eight-under-par scores of 64 for 36-hole totals of 131.

First two young Californians, Richard Martinez and Bob Lunn, did it and then Lee Trevino and Howie Johnson came in matching the sensational round to go ahead of the bigger names of golf.

Both front-running teams lost opportunities to take the undisputed leadership when they bogeyed their final holes.

Martinez, 26, of Laguna Beach, Calif., and Lunn, 22, from Sacramento, Calif., splurged for 10 birdies including six in succession, but added two bogeys including the final hole where Lunn missed a three-foot putt.

Trevino, 27, a newcomer from Horizon City, Tex., and Johnson, 42, a veteran from Palm Springs, Calif., had seven birdies and an eagle-three on the par-3, 497-yard third hole.

Here Johnson hit a beautiful No. 4 iron second shot about 10 feet from the cup and Trevino

Matinee Idol

NEW YORK — Horse players have no place for sentiment as they go about their grim business of betting on races. To them horses are machines that light up the mutual boards — for better or for worse. But once every once a horse comes stampeding into their ken with such a display of majesty that he softens even the hardest of hearts. Such an electrifying performer was Native Dancer, whose death brought feelings of sadness to racegoers and nonracegoers alike.

The dancer was a rare one. He was everyone's darling, everyone's oversize pet. He had it all. He was big, handsome, good and — this was so important — gray. The eye-catching steed was the first of the television horses and the space cadets could not have chosen a more ideal vehicle for popularizing their product among a public that has the quaint idea that the racing season begins and ends each year with the Kentucky Derby.

To casual sports followers, racing is a swift-moving blur that needs the help of the race-caller to sort out the order. But Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's powerfully muscled Dancer needed no such help. Even the little old lady in Dubuque could spot him without aid because the gray-coated son of Polynesian and Geisha — Vanderbilt is matchless in naming his horses — was so distinctive that he stood out from the pack.

Thus did he become the first equine matinee idol, a horse with so much personality that his appeal was irresistible. He captured imaginations with a completeness that the turf had not known since the legendary Man O' War.

Most viewers of the 1953 Kentucky Derby — the in-person fans and the TV watchers — were heartsick when Native Dancer, not given the world's best ride by the usually competent Eric Guerin, was beaten a head by Capt. Harry Guggenheim's Dark Star.

What gave this setback such unhappy overtones was that it was the only defeat the Big Gray had in his 22-race career. Guerin neglected to position him close to the rail and out of traffic at the start and then got him involved in a bumping incident with Money Broker at the first turn. Yet Vanderbilt himself pinpointed another spot in the race as the key.

"When I think back on the derby," said Alfred sadly, "I realize that the defeat was more costly than any other defeat anywhere. If he had not blown it, he would have been unbeaten, the one horse they would be matching everyone against in all the years to come."

"I disagree, though, that the race was lost in the early stages. The Dancer had overcome it and moved back into contention. Coming around the last turn, though, Eric lost confidence in the horse and began cutting corners. He dropped to the inside instead of swinging wide as he always did before."

"In thinking back on it, I find myself wondering if he got panicky—I never said this to anyone before—and reacted as if it had become a life or death proposition. He should have said to himself, 'This is the Dancer. This isn't an ordinary horse. He still can win from the outside.' But it's done and the Dancer is gone. I had more affection and admiration for him than any horse I ever owned. He was the most."

Alfred didn't realize that his words almost paralleled the classic remark of Will Harbutt, the faithful groom of Man O' War, when the famed Big Red died.

"He was the mostest horse," drawled Old Will with proud simplicity.

Except for the color of their coats—the burnished gold of Big Red and the glistening silver of the Dancer—they were quite alike. Each lost once. Each was an odds-on favorite almost every time he raced. Each was big, an equine giant. Each was strikingly handsome. And each had a majestic glow to him.

However, the Dancer cut it more finely than Man O' War because the huge gray was inclined to loaf once he was in front, producing more close victories than he should have. Never did the son of Polynesian-Geisha come from further behind than he did in the mud of the Arlington Classic. When he was trailing by 10 lengths, Alfred turned to his trainer, Bill Winfrey and offered glum comment.

"He won't win today," said the owner. The Dancer won by nine lengths.

Guerin was once asked what it was like to ride the Dancer. "It's like driving a Cadillac," he said.

This was one of the truly great horses of the American turf. And even the little old lady in Dubuque will feel a little sadder because he is gone.

Turkey Season Ending Today

Hunting seasons for a number of game species will be ending in Pennsylvania in the next ten days.

Today will be the final day of the turkey season in northcentral Pennsylvania, and next Monday, November 20, will be the last day of the Wilson's or jacksnipe season. Bear season, which opens on Monday, November 20, ends on Saturday, November 25.

November 25 is also the closing day of the general small game season. Hunting will end that day for squirrel, rabbit, pheasant, quail and grouse.

Jerry Wolman Will Sell Mack Stadium

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jerry Wolman, financially beset owner of the Philadelphia Eagles, expects to sell Connie Mack Stadium within a week, a spokesman for him said yesterday.

The first round co-leaders with 66 — Billy Casper, Bonita, Calif., and Don Collett, Houston club pro-shot 68 yesterday. Their 134 total gave them third place, three shots behind the leader.

Ken Still of Tacoma, Wash., and Ray Floyd, St. Andrews, Ill., who also had a first-round 66, slipped to a 70 on a warm, sunny day for 136. Also at this total were youngsters Marty Fleckman, Port Arthur, Tex., and Babe Hisey, Pocatello, Idaho, who managed their second straight 68.

Still analyzed his team's efforts with this comment: "We were terrible. We played like sausages." Floyd added, "you'd better make that big sausage."

It took a 146 total or better to make the 36-hole cut. Fifty-six teams did so and of these, 40 teams are under par 144.

The only prominent casualties were the Hebert Brothers, Jay and Lionel, who did 71-76 — 147. Former PGA champion Bob Rosburg finished the round and then went immediately to Scripps Hospital in nearby La Jolla, Calif., where it was determined that surgery was not necessary. He was under observation at the hospital for a kidney ailment.

Rosburg, prior to Friday's play, complained of a pain in his left side. The team, before dropping out of the tournament, lost consecutive rounds of 73-73-146.

Belinsky Sent To Minor Loop

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Bo Belinsky was among six players the Houston Astros assigned outright to their Oklahoma City farm club yesterday.

The action makes Belinsky, the vocal lefthander who pitched a no-hitter for the California Angels in 1962, subject to draft by other major league clubs for $25,000.

Houston obtained Belinsky for the $25,000 price in last November's draft.

Others assigned to Oklahoma City were pitchers Dave Eilers, Dan Schneider and Howie Reed, infielder Lee Bales, and outfielder Duke Simms. They also will be subject to the draft that will be held in conjunction with the major league meetings in Mexico City two weeks from now.

With Army Out, Cotton Looking

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Sugar Bowl representatives will be at four football games today as the New Orleans post-season game scrambles to find a replacement for Army, which has ruled out a bowl game.

Key game on the Sugar Bowl list is the Tennessee-Mississippi clash at Memphis, Tenn. Second-ranked Tennessee, according to informed sources, will get an Orange Bowl bid—win, lose or draw. Ole Miss, if it beats Tennessee, will probably come to the Sugar Bowl.

Other Sugar Bowlers will be watching Oklahoma play Kansas, North Carolina State duel Clemson and Auburn battle Georgia.

Conspicuously absent from the Sugar Bowl list this week was Penn State.

SOCIAL Wanderings by Marion Honhart

MR. AND MRS. PAUL HOLMBERG sent word that they like Athens, Georgia very much. Mr. Holmberg has a graduate teaching assistantship at the University of Georgia. His wife, Christina, is teaching sixth grade at Winterville Elementary School, Clarke County, Winterville, Georgia, just eight and a half miles from Athens. Their address is Carousal Village Apt. J7, 1907 S. Millledge avenue, Athens, Ga. 30601.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON BRIDGE at the Woman's Club had four tables of the Howell Movement in play with the average score a 32. Honors went as follows: First—Mrs. Harold Banghart and Mrs. Melvin Keller, 41; Second—Mrs. Theo J. Valone and Mrs. Gaston Hamilton, 36; Third—Mrs. Arthur DeLuca and Mrs. Shirl Glass, 34½; Fourth—Mrs. James R. Valone and Miss Frances Schimmelfeng, 32½.

FROM COCOA BEACH, FLORIDA, area visitors include Mrs. Donald Henrikson and children, Randy and Krissle, who made the trip by car. They arrived last week and are guests at the home of Mrs. Henrikson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Barr of 435 Lookout street. The Henriksons moved to Florida six months ago. They expect to be here a short while longer.

CLARENCE SIMONES, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simones, 335 Park street, has been transferred by the U.S. Forestry Department from the Flatwoods Job Corps Camp in Virginia to Paulina, Oregon where he will be an assistant ranger. The family recently visited in Warren on their way to their new home. Mrs. Simones is the former Mary Ann Musante, daughter of Mrs. Andrew Musante of 308 Union street. The Simones' new address is c/o Rager Ranger Station, Paulina, Oregon 97751.

MINIATURES: The Irvinedale PTA is meeting on Tuesday, November 21, at 8 p.m. Guest speaker will be Juan Carlos Monquat, Rotary Exchange student from Argentina.

Guest speaker at the Russell Faith Bible Church this Sunday evening at 7 will be Mrs. Gladis Wigden, a missionary to the Seminole Indians in Florida.

Candy Stripers Awarded Pins For Service

Candy Stripers of Warren General Hospital were honored at an awards meeting recently held in the hospital conference room. Mrs. Maurice Hoke, chairman of the group, presented a 200-hour pin to Hannah Harbert; and 100-hour pins to Delores Weber, Janet Stewart, Ruth Ann Kifer, Becky Hinterliter, Virginia Cefalo, Jane Luce, Susan King and Monica Bunk.

Caps representing 50-hours of service were awarded to these: Lois Buerkle, Lynn Crawley, Karen Channing, Kathleen Clark, Roxy Dove, Daphne Grosch, Dora Greene, Debby Hanson, Cindy Haggerty, Patty Loucks, Linda Lyle, Linda Marshall.

Also, Marlene Neel, Nancy Newman, Lynne Nobles, Christine Peterson, Mary Parsons, Debbie Schreckengost, Shelly Wedlock, Alice Wolf and Jane Luce.

Mrs. Charlotte Eldridge, nursing supervisor at Warren General Hospital, thanked the young women for their helpful assistance and expressed the hope that many of them would choose to enter the nursing service. She pointed out the various health careers available that are being highly developed and becoming more important.

Light refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

MR. AND MRS. BLAIR THOMAS SMOULDER

Pamela Marie Blanks Bride of Blair Smoulder

Pamela Marie Blanks and Blair Thomas Smoulder were united in marriage recently in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church in a double ring service. Father Smith was celebrant of the high noon Nuptial Mass. Bill Blanks, brother of the bride, was an altar boy. Mrs. Thomas Donnelly provided the wedding music. Two baskets of white mums ornamented the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Blanks, 10 Market street, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair T. Weidner, 1310 Still street, Warren.

Approaching the altar on the arm of her father, the bride wore a white delustered satin gown with re-embroidered Alencon lace that was appliqued to form the scalloped bateau neckline and the elbow length sleeves. Garlands of lace accent the billowing chapel length Watteau train. Her bouffant veil was of English pure silk illusion and was caught to a crown of seed pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade of yellow and white roses.

Maid of honor, Miss Nancy Bleech was dressed in a slim floor length gown of Vanilla crepe with moss green velvet bodice. Moss green cluster of leaves and velvet buds secured the butterfly veil. Bridesmaids, Sue Zerbe, Linda Brewster and junior bridesmaid Beth Ann Weidner were dressed identically to the honor attendant. Mistress Kim Neuback, flower girl, was also dressed the same. All the attendants carried cascades of yellow and burgandy carnations.

Best man was Thomas Supper and ushers were Pat Hartnet, Bill Weidner and Bill Sheckler; junior usher was John Blanks, brother of the bride. Master Kevin Stanbro was the ring bearer.

The mother of the groom chose a pink brocade sleeveless A-line dress with matching coat. The mother of the bride wore a turquoise knit dress and coat. Both mothers wore brown orchids. The grandmothers of the couple, Mrs. Vitoria Tomassoni, Mrs. John Schutt and Mrs. Peter Weidner, were presented with white carnations.

The reception was held at the Sons of Italy Club with three hundred guests attending. Decorations were carried out in green and white crepe with white bells. Aides were Karen Sasserson, Terrie Lynn Rossell, Judy Thomas, and Gloria Williams.

For traveling to Niagara Falls, N.Y., the bride wore a light blue and white suit with black patent accessories and a white and yellow rose corsage. The couple now reside at 8 Sixth ave., Warren.

Mr. Smoulder is a Warren High School graduate and a graduate of Gannon College. He was a U.S. Army Engineer Officer and has served one year in Vietnam. He is now employed in the planning department presently at New Process Company. Mrs. Smoulder is a graduate of Warren Area High School.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Fran Baczowski, Alice Tomassoni, and Nancy Bleech. Rehearsal dinner was given by the parents of the groom at Paces Restaurant.

Out of town guests were from Cleveland, Ohio; Olean, Jamestown, Dunkirk, Bemus Point, Buffalo, Hamburg, Rochester, New York; and Erie, Pa.

COMMITTEE PREPARES HUNDREDS OF SAVORY MEATBALLS

Harvest Bazaar Benefit Opens Today At St. Joseph School

When the doors swing open at 4 this afternoon for the Second Annual Harvest Bazaar at St. Joseph School Auditorium, the public will be treated to some of the best food and to one of the finest arrays of handmade and homebaked items in the area. Sponsored by the Altar Society of St. Joseph Catholic Church, this year's bazaar has been planned to have something of interest for everyone, from the smallest child on up to and including grandmothers and grandfathers.

Such booths as handmade aprons, homemade candy, baked goods, novelettes, Christmas articles, the "Next to New Shop" (this carries many treasures), are for the entire family, while the Kiddie Corner and the traditional fish pond have been planned for the younger set. There will also be games for all to enjoy.

It would be a shame to miss something from the dining area of the bazaar. There, St. Joseph's famous meatball sandwiches will be served, also hot dogs with sauerkraut, all kinds of soft drinks, and deliciously fragrant hot coffee which is something else the St. Joseph chefs are famous for.

On both evenings of this benefit, held to raise funds for the society's church work and charities, a basket of groceries will be awarded. Sunday evening at the close of the bazaar, the special award of a Sylvania Color

TV Console will go to some fortunate patron, who is not required to be present to receive it.

The bazaar opens its doors at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon and will continue until 7. Whole families are invited to take advantage of these two days of festivities at St. Joseph's, including the opportunity of enjoying the savory food there, instead of cooking at home.

CHECK FIRST IMPRESSIONS

Try painting your front door a different color and add a good looking brass door knocker or other dressy hardware. Check your screen doors and replace screens if damaged.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am an officer in Job's Daughters and we are having a big dance in a couple of months. I want to ask Chuck who is one of the nicest, most mannerly fellows in the whole school. All the kids are crazy about him.

I was very surprised when my mother told me I should not ask him because it might injure my reputation. Chuck lives in a foster home and this is what my mother has against him. She says all kids in foster homes have parents who aren't married, or they are alcoholic, or in jail, or they don't want the kids. According to her, the family is trash no matter how you look at it.

Is she right? I am just sick over this.—SO DISAPPOINTED

DEAR SO: It's not true that all kids in foster homes have parents who are not married, alcoholic or in jail. Some foster children are orphaned, or they have only one parent who is unable to care for them. Even if the boy did come from the type of home your mother described, it would not necessarily mean that HE is no good. Kids who have unfortunate backgrounds need acceptance and kindness from people like you. . .to prevent people like your mother from breaking their spirit.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just finished reading the letter from the woman who screamed bloody murder because her husband retired and is now sticking to her like glue. Some people don't know when they are well off. Eight out of 10 wives in the U.S. would be thrilled to trade places with that woman. Me included.

Ask her how she would like to sit alone every night wondering where her husband is and what he is doing. Ask her how she would like to worry about whether he turned over in a ditch because he was drunk.

I could write a book about what I've gone through with a husband who let me know early in our marriage that he had no interest in me, his home or his children. Whenever I hear a wife complain because her husband spends too much time around the house I wish I could tell her how lucky she is. Do it for me, will you please?—WHAT'S SHE GOT THAT I DON'T HAVE

DEAR WHAT: Maybe she doesn't have anything that you don't have. Maybe her husband has something that your HUSBAND doesn't have. Namely the maturity to accept responsibility.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My sister and I just learned two facts which really knocked us out. (1) Dad was married for three years to another woman before he married Mom. (2) Sis was adopted when she was two months old.

When we told Mom how let down we were she said she wasn't trying to keep anything from us. She said it didn't occur to her to mention these "details." Sis cried for an hour when she heard the news. Now we both wonder what else is being kept from us. I have a feeling I'm adopted, too. Are we justified in feeling betrayed, or is Mom right?—HURT

DEAR HURT: You and your sister should have been told about the previous marriage and the adoption many years ago. Had you grown up with the knowledge it would have had no significance. This way, it looms large and important in your minds and has shaken your confidence in your parents. Sorry, but they made a big mistake.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents. . .if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom." Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

50 Attend Philomel Club Meeting In Beaty Auditorium

Approximately fifty members attended the Philomel Club meeting Wednesday evening in Beaty Auditorium. This marked the first opportunity in more than ten years for club members as a group to hear and play the Beaty piano which the club had given for community use. The meeting, somewhat experimental in character, was attended by several who because of work or other duties do not regularly attend the afternoon meetings.

Mrs. Charles Eaton, president, called attention to the Civic Orchestra program on Sunday in the Warren Area High School auditorium. Mrs. Neil Culbertson was chairman of the evening program which was entitled "Conflict and Compromise."

For the program Mrs. Peter Horning, pianist, played "Palacca Brillante" by Bohm and "La Polka de la Reine" by Joachim. Mrs. John Lang was the accompanist for Mrs. Arthur Lydell who sang "British Children's Prayer" by Wolfe, and "Prayer for Peace" by Kingsley.

Continuing the theme, Mrs. Eugene Cease and Mrs. J. Russell Hanson played excerpts from "Sassafras Suite" a piano duet by Bacon, contemporary American composer. Mrs. Robert Sandblade and Mrs. Eaton played a cello and piano selection "Largo" from Violancello Sonata by Chopin. In concluding the program, Mrs. Glenn Fraser, pianist, played "Sonata, Opus 26, First and Second Movements" by Beethoven.

Mrs. Lloyd Smith was the hostess chairman of the evening and her committee included Mrs. A. F. Dunham, Mrs. Talbot Aldrich, Miss Viola Lindmark and Mrs. John Lutz.

Carter And Fehlman Nuptials

The marriage of Peggy Ann Carter to Ronnie Lee Fehlman took place recently at a 1:30 service in Crary Chapel of the First Methodist Church. The Rev. James G. Cousins performed the double ring wedding ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnell Carter, 817 Jackson ave. extension, Warren, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Steven Swenko of Pittsfield and the late Mr. Willard Fehlman.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a white wool crepe dress designed in an A-line skimmer style accented with white satin buttons and mandarin collar. Her headpiece consisted of a pouf veil of French illusion fastened to a Dior bow. She carried a nose-gay bouquet of tiny white sweet-heart roses.

Mrs. Rodney Belts, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a scarlet wool crepe dress designed with cap sleeves and self-fabric buttons for accent. Her headpiece was a matching Dior bow. She carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Richard Fehlman, brother of the groom, was best man.

The mother of the bride wore a chocolate brown silk suit with rust and yellow daisy corsage. The mother of the groom wore a pink ensemble with a pink tinted daisy corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Starbrick fire hall for one hundred and fifty guests. Decorations included wedding bells and yellow and white Fuji mums. The wedding cake was a four tier cake with yellow roses and green leaves for accents. Aides were Mrs. Clarence Carter, Miss Sandra Carter, Mrs. John H. Carter, Miss Mollieanne Stites, Miss Carol Eldridge and Mrs. George Manning.

Mrs. Fehlman is a graduate of Warren Area High School. Mr. Fehlman is a graduate of Youngsville High School and has served two years in the U. S. Army. He was awarded the rank of sergeant while serving in Vietnam. He is presently employed at Gorry-Jamestown.

Following the honeymoon, the couple now reside in Pittsfield.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Mrs. Steve Swenko, Mrs. James Fehlman, Mrs. George Manning, Mrs. Edward Beardsley, Miss Carol Eldridge, Miss Mollieanne Stites, Mrs. Rodney Belts and Mrs. John H. Carter.

A rehearsal dinner was given at the Mineral Well Restaurant by the groom's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Swenko.

Jason Lee Circle Studies Hinduism and Buddhism

The history and beliefs of Hinduism and Buddhism were presented by Mrs. Arnell Carter at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Jason Lee Circle of First Methodist Church. Mrs. F. E. Kleshauser, 105 Willoughby, entertained in her home for the meeting and devotions were led by Mrs. Frank Alexander.

Nine packages containing five pounds each were packed for Christmas mailing to servicemen in Vietnam.

Assisting the hostess with refreshments were Mrs. W. D. Black and Mrs. Pyle Wendelboe. The next meeting of the circle will be on December 12 at First Methodist Church.

Warren Civic Orchestra Enters 17th Year

By BETTY RICE

Two years ago a group attending a series of workshops sponsored in Pittsburgh by the American Symphony League, expressed not only curiosity but keen interest in the success of the Warren Civic Orchestra.

It has taken the dedicated interest of many fine musicians to bring the orchestra into this, its 17th year.

The Warren Civic Orchestra was chartered 1962 and gave its first concert in May of that year. The impetus to organize such a group came from the late William Glassman, a practicing attorney in Warren and a violinist who wanted to play himself. His wife, Hope, also assisted in the budding venture.

The initial concert, directed by Harry Summers, who continued in that capacity for 14 of the first 15 years in the community, presented the following musicians: Mrs. John Benze, Charlotte Erickson, William Glassman, Aurelio Lucia, Mrs. Gilbert McCullough, Mrs. Frederick Olson, Mrs. Chris Pepke, Mrs. Anthony Sealise, Mrs. Laurel Whitmore, first violins.

Second violins—Mrs. Joseph DeFrees, Mrs. C. L. Khuey, Mrs. Jack Lott, Patty Reilly, Mrs. A. B. Scholes; Violas—Mrs. Robert Knapp, Garney Pedersen, Mrs. James Potter; Cellos—W. A. Greaves, Dr. V. H. McAlpin, Mrs. Norman Morgan, Paul Reidy; Flutes—Dr. Russell Meadows; Clarinets—Charles Armstrong, Dr. Santo Giunta; French Horn—David Harrington; Saxophone—Jerome Waxman; Trumpet—Kenneth Foreman; Trombones—Chris Pepke, Barbara Schmutz and Percussion—Everett Stoke. Members of the High School orchestra augmented the group. Some of these people have passed on or moved elsewhere and new faces are continually added.

Still active, however, are Mrs. John Benze, Charlotte Erickson, Mrs. Frederick Olson, Mrs. Laurel Whitmore, Everett Stoke, Mrs. Joseph DeFrees, Garney Pedersen and Mrs. James Potter.

Mrs. DeFrees, a member of the board of directors, has served as president since Warren Civic Orchestra was first formed while Nelson Johnson has acted as secretary and Margaret H. Wright as treasurer an equal length of time.

Sponsors for the initial concert were the late John L. Blair, Mrs. Harry Logan, Gordon Norton, Duane and Robert Wilder.

Patrons for the current season are Mrs. DeFrees, Mrs. Logan, Mrs. Florence Gilbert, Philomel Club and Cersolun Foundation of Warren.

Although the orchestra functions as part of the Adult Education program, its own board of directors, meeting once or twice a year, determine its policies. Mrs. DeFrees acts as business manager.

In addition to instrumental soloists, many of Warren's finest voices have been featured in solo roles. Robert B. Dietsch has sung selections from Handel; Lawrence Stainbrook, selections from "Carousel"; Romaine Ericsson, "Six Places for Young People" by Bartok, are only a few who have brought enchantment to local music lovers. Violet Borg's voice has also been heard as alto soloist for Haydn Symphony No. 2.

For 17 years, the civic orchestra has steadily offered music of the masters—Beethoven, Sibelius, Saint Saens, Clementi, Strauss, Mozart, Schubert, Bach, Puccini, Mendelssohn and others.

During its third year, the orchestra presented a pop concert with other offerings sprinkled with the melodies of Lerner and Loewe hits, songs by Richard Rodgers and others.

The Philomel chorus has also been featured on civic orchestra programs along with many other vocalists and the Barbershoppers.

In 1958, the orchestra had a new conductor, Albert Lyford, music supervisor at Northern Area High School, who each week brought his daughter, Linda, who played string bass, to rehearsal.

Other students in the orchestra in '58 were Rose Mary Reese, Susan Crossett, Mary Miller, Cynthia Prichard, Anne Wendelboe, Harold McNulty and Doris Sechrist.

There were also several teachers among the 1958 personnel including Jesse Lyon, principal at Youngsville High School; Barbara Begeny from Kane High School and Daniel Goldthwaite. Private teachers in the orchestra were Helen Olson, Charlotte Erickson, Arthur Briggs and Harold Skinner. Joseph Williamson, former administrator at Warren General Hospital and Dr. E. R. Anderson were also members.

Through the years each week, housewives, students, engineers and teachers—people from all walks of life—met to enjoy the fun of making music together. All have given cheerfully of their time that Warren might boast of a community orchestra.

COVER

Carl Stout, director of Warren Civic Orchestra and Philharmonic Chorus, is completely immersed in the Requiem Mass in D Minor by Wolfgang A. Mozart to be presented at 3 p. m. tomorrow at Warren Area High School auditorium. Carl is organist and choir master at Trinity Memorial Episcopal Church and brings to his work great sensitivity, remarkable ability and a contagious enthusiasm. This is his first year as director. The artist recently was musical director for Warren Player's production of "South Pacific" leaving no doubts as to his versatility.

A milestone in Warren's musical history will be marked at 3 p. m. tomorrow when, for the first time, the newly formed Warren Philharmonic Chorus joins the Warren Civic Orchestra for a performance of the Requiem Mass in D Minor by Wolfgang A. Mozart.

The 17th season of the civic orchestra sees Carl Stout as conductor and Richard West, oboeist as guest artist.

The program to be presented at Warren Area High School auditorium opens with Beethoven's Egmont Overture and Vivaldi's Concerto No. 9 for the Oboe.

Mozart's Requiem includes the following: Requiem—Rest Eternal; Dies irae—Day of Wrath; Tuba mirum—The Trumpet Shall Sound; Rex Tremendae—King of Tremendous Majesty; Recordare—As Recorded—book; Confutasti—When the Wicked Have Been Confounded; Lacrymosa—Tearful Shall Be That Day; Domine Jesu—Lord Jesus Christ, King of Glory; Hostias—The Sacrifice of Prayer and Praise; Sanctus—Holy, Holy, Holy; Benedictus—Blessed Is He Who Cometh; Agnus Dei—O Heart of God.

Orchestra personnel is: First violin—Helen Olson, concert mistress; Charlotta Erickson, Doris Benze, Pauline Whitmore, Delphine McFate, Shirleyanne M. Johnson, Josephine Simonsen, Shirley Yeager; Second violin—Rose Bonavita, Barbara DeFrees, Roberta Garrett, Jean Landin, Charles Johnson, Lisa Niedzialek, Brian Segel, Doris Yeagle.

Viola—Garney Pedersen, Lisa Blacchi, Mary Mangus, Helen Potter; Cello—Arlene Conn, Eleanor Sandblade; Bass—Judy Dwyer, Jim Crozier; Flutes—Ann MacLees, Kathy Werner, Clarinet—John Crone, Livio Bertolini, Oboe—Richard West, Judy Frazier; Trumpet—David Mahan, Debbie Dietsch.

GUEST

Guest artist at tomorrow's concert is Richard West, oboeist. Following the Overture, West will present Vivaldi's "Concerto No. 9 for the Oboe."

Trombone—Shirley Crone, William Mahan, French Horn—Marti Kanovski, Ann Wykoff, Bassoon, Randie Johnson, Percussion—Everett Stoke. As in the past, several members of the orchestra are high school students.

The purpose of the Warren Civic Orchestra, Inc. is to provide adult residents of Warren and surrounding communities, who are qualified musically, the opportunity to play with the orchestra and to give concerts; to foster music and music appreciation in the area.

A reception will be held immediately after the performance in the foyer for any who wish to attend.

The committee in charge from the Philharmonic chorus is comprised of Mrs. John Cunningham, Mrs. Vera Wright, Mrs. John Lang, Mrs. Arthur Lydell and Mrs. Lewis Conroy.

Ushers will be glad to take any contribution those attending care to make at the program's end.

Dry Cleaning TIPS

This changing world has created many new problems for both the cleaner and his customer. Until a few years ago a fabric was either wool, cotton, linen, or silk, now it is just as likely to come from a lump of coal or an oil well.

Prior to the creation of synthetic fibers, decorations, erratic dyes, sizings, etc., washing and cleaning were more or less routine. Today, the dry cleaner must know the correct processes for each garment. Many cleaning fluids will do a good job on some fabrics and destroy others. With several hundred fibers and mixed fibers on the market, this becomes a complex problem.

Occasionally a garment is "ruined" in the cleaning process, and no one wants to accept the blame — the dry cleaner, manufacturer, retailer or customer. For cases such as this, the article, along with the details, should be sent to a laboratory, such as the National Institute of Dry Cleaning in Silver Springs, Maryland, for a decision as to the responsibility.

When seeking dry cleaning service, shop for quality first and price second. A good cleaning job is likely to pay dividends in lasting wearability.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is according to the stars. FOR SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1967

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Say to yourself, "what should I be doing?" Choose friends, associates with the selective flair for which you are known. Caution lest the unworthy prey on your good nature, take advantage of you.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Try to see yourself as others see you, then you can project yourself in a fitting manner, and progress will accelerate. Maintain dress and decorum at a standard that will enhance your image, true performance.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Be not swayed by smooth talkers who may be purveying ideas or policies that are not akin to you or your record. Call your sense of humor and fair play into the fray to bolster your case.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Converse with those who can stimulate your thought processes, cooperate with and/or aid you in the accomplishment of your assigned tasks. Don't overlook the obvious when its noteworthy.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Listen attentively when news or information of value is being disseminated for yours or others' benefit. Remember the old but still effective adage that "two heads are better than one". Avoid haste.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—Exude optimism whether you get out or stay in today. Perhaps you will be subjected to temporary tensions, even hard knocks. Absorb it all with your usual grace and understanding. Yes! Better times ARE coming.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Be about your business. Don't dally on the inconsequential or be a clock watcher—such are wasters of much valuable time not recoverable. Take steps to tangle solidly with essentials quickly.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23)—Reality can at times be grim. Nonetheless you have the stamina and fortitude to handle it deftly and well. Life is made up of a well-defined order which one must systematically pursue for attaining anything.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Take the trouble to explain your hopes and motives today. Do not be mysterious or apart. By sharing and cooperating things will fall into a patterned procedure slated to storm the ramparts.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—This is the right time to assert yourself. But don't overdo it—a calm, firm, quiet approach can take you farthest. Your advancement and luck can be linked with one in an important position.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—You seem to be the center of some controversy or special circumstance. Thread through it cautiously yet with solid, purposeful action. Temper, sudden, excited feelings are not to be trusted.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Could be a day for truly "odd" involvements unless you stay alert and sidestep anything but the normal and routine. Generous effort expended in the correct manner and direction can bear rich rewards.

YOU BORN TODAY: Are possessed of keen judgment, shrewd analysis, and a fair amount of clarity of purpose. Those three can be the dynamite or catalyst to blast your way to the top where you belong, and where others expect you to be. A tendency to be skeptical can result in mistrusting a friend. Avoid this at all costs unless the evidence is incontrovertible. Yours is an acquisitive nature which causes you to explore areas that otherwise would go untapped.

How to Keep Well By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

PROTEIN FROM LEAVES

Traditional eating habits are difficult to change. The English biochemist, Dr. N.W. Pirie, was fully aware of this human trait when he devised a way to extract protein from leaves. The final product was a dark green mass of cheese-like consistency with a faint flavor of spinach or tea. Further testing showed that the leaf protein had more nutrients (amino acids) than seed protein and as much as all animal protein with the exception of milk and eggs.

A small amount of the substance was disguised as filling for ravioli, rissoles, and other dishes. Pirie served the edibles to his staff but had trouble persuading them to "eat the stuff." Convincing the natives in New Guinea of the benefits to be gained from this type of food required much persuasion, despite their unsophisticated palate and Pirie's skill, patience, and diplomacy. In fact, he got them to eat it by wandering about the village eating it himself.

All of this confirms the story by Rudyard Kipling in which he told how famine victims in rice-eating India preferred starving to death rather than eating wheat and barley provided by a British relief team. There is a good possibility that newer foods will be developed to short-circuit the wasteful steps whereby crops, grass, and leaves are changed into tasty animal proteins such as we find in steaks and chops. Each step in the "food chain" (grain to goat to child) is costly because it involves a 90 to 99 per cent loss of food value. Animals need a lot of land for grazing. Cattle eat an enormous amount of hay, grass, or corn to reach butchering size. The paradox is that there is much more nourishment in the feed consumed by one animal than in the steer about to be slaughtered.

Taste may be important, but it is a luxury where grazing area is scarce. Green leaves are plentiful in overcrowded tropical and semi-tropical areas. Extracting protein from vegetation is feasible. It is unfortunate that we are not taking advantage of this method to upgrade the nutritional status of nations with food problems.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

SETTING BROKEN NOSE

Mrs. H. A. writes: If the nose is broken in a fall, must it be reset as a broken leg bone would be?

REPLY

Yes, but the setting technique differs. When the nose is broken, the fractured ends are joined by molding them together from the outside or applying pressure from inside.

Jamestown Library Sets Goal of $147,600

JAMESTOWN, N. Y.—George F. Kessler, president of Ames-Burns Co., Inc., Jamestown, will lead the campaign organization that will raise funds for capital improvements at James Prendergast Free Library.

A goal of $147,600 has been set for the campaign to be conducted between November 15 and February 1.

The appointment of Kessler as general chairman of the campaign was announced this week by Miles L. Lasser, president of Prendergast Library.

The expansion and improvement program at the Library was started in August to meet the time requirements of federal agencies which have granted funds for construction. The public fund-raising effort was delayed by the Library board of trustees, however, to avoid any possible conflict with the recently-concluded United Fund drive in the Jamestown area.

Of a total cost of $486,446 for improvements now underway at the Library, federal and state grants have provided $338,846 — 70 per cent — reducing the amount to be raised by public subscription to $147,600.

Funds raised in the campaign, combined with the federal and state grants, will pay for the addition of approximately 16,500 square feet of seating and book stack space. This new space will provide badly-needed seating for an additional 91 persons, book storage space for 105,000 additional volumes and adequate office space for administrative functions. Considerable expansion, improvement and modernization of existing sections of the Library will also be included, as will construction of a wing for the Bookmobile program of the System.

The Prendergast Library now serves, not only as the public library for the Jamestown area, but also as the headquarters facility for the Chautauqua-Cattaraugus Library System.

All 32 chartered public libraries in the two-county Chautauqua-Cattaraugus area are now members of the Library System. While the System furnishes to each library both monies and services, each library retains complete autonomy of policy, control and operation.

Well-known in the Jamestown area for his leadership of many community programs, Kessler brings to the campaign chairmanship a background of wide experience in business, civic and charitable activities. At the present time he is actively affiliated with the United Fund, Y.M.C.A., Salvation Army, Chautauqua County Economic Development Commission, Chamber of Commerce, University Club, First Congregational Church, Moon Brook Country Club, Regional Alumni Fund for Colgate University, the Jamestown High School One Hundred Member Club and Little League.

Few people realize, Mr. Kessler said, that James Prendergast Free Library — with more than 27,000 subscribers — is the most widely-used educational, cultural and literary institution in Jamestown. The Library's annual present book circulation exceeds 324,000 volumes, he added.

The Library's influence extends throughout the two-county Chautauqua-Cattaraugus area. Some 5,000 of its subscribers live outside of the metropolitan Jamestown area.

Kessler noted that during the entire 76 years of its existence, Prendergast Library has undertaken only one public solicitation for capital funds. That occurred in 1960, when a $315,000 wing was added. The improvements made at that time are, to a great extent, responsible for the need for enlargement now. A 24 per cent increase in Library subscribers has taken place in the last five years — a direct result of the effort made seven years ago to provide a modern Library facility. The increasing use of the Library has made it necessary to enlarge both seating and book space.

Urging wide and generous support for this capital fund project, Kessler indicated that he had already been assured of strong support by several individuals, companies and organizations. Pledges to the campaign may be made payable over a three-year period, he said.

"Many people outside of Jamestown will be interested in knowing," Kessler remarked, "that the Chautauqua-Cattaraugus Library System's Bookmobile carries 4,500 books — plus records and periodicals — to 38 outlying communities, most of which are remote from large libraries and many of which do not have libraries. In terms of the quantity of books circulated, the Bookmobile is now the third largest library operation in the two-county area. An annual circulation of 110,000 volumes is projected for the Bookmobile in 1967.

"The Bookmobile serves not only communities too small to support public libraries, but also the institutionalized, the hospitalized, and families many miles from public libraries. Everywhere, it stimulates increased education and improvement for individuals and communities, as well as greater use of existing libraries."

Nepal is a constitutional monarchy in the Himalayas. It is about the size of Arkansas.

The population of Liberia is entirely of African descent.

Some 48 per cent of Canada is covered by forests.

READER'S SPEAK

Dear TOP VIEW: Sponsors should not discount the older adult market. Many have considerable buying potential. And I don't mean for patent medicines shouted at audiences with a background of repulsive pictures and diagrams. H. P. A., Kansas City, Kans.

Dear TOP VIEW: Let's have Dean Martin off. We try to raise out kids not to drink and when a drunken fool shows off it's hard to correct them. Violet Van Rinsum and Geneva Van Rinsum, Somers, Mont.

Dear TOP VIEW: Who ever was responsible for replacing "Password" with a silly soap opera must be crazy. And removing "What's My Line?" was a stupid mistake. — Mrs. C. Triplett, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Owing to our flood of mail clamoring for return of four shows removed by CBS, we are running an additional ballot today (suggested by Donald E. Matatics, Fort Lauderdale, Fla.) where you can indicate either "bring 'em back" on the air, or "keep 'em off." We will send results to CBS who, we understand, took several off to attract younger viewers. Therefore, young and old, register your wishes on these programs in this nationwide newspaper TV survey! The second ballot lets you vote on four veteran science-fiction programs.

SHOULD THESE PROGRAMS BE BROUGHT BACK FOR EVENING ENTERTAINMENT?

TE LA DI O

WEEK'S PREVIEW

Special attractions this coming week range from parades through drama, art, music (classical, modern, pop), and football.

ABC has a Debbie Reynolds special Sunday evening, a program Tuesday night on the world of the traveling entertainers, and the King Family Thanksgiving show on Thursday night (also Wednesday night on Ch. 10).

CBS is fairly inactive, with its CBS News Hour Tuesday night presenting a program on the artist Gauguin's days in Tahiti and the subsequent influence on his painting.

NBC is "where the action is." It offers an exciting Disney feature on wildlife in the Sequoia National Forest Sunday evening, a Danny Thomas drama Monday night, a World Premiere drama Tuesday night, a Kraft Music Hall show with Dinah Shore Wednesday night, and on Friday night Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass followed by a Bell Telephone show featuring violinist Joseph Fuchs.

Both NBC and CBS channels will be carrying Thanksgiving parades Thursday morning and all three networks have holiday football games. And, of course, there is the usual weekend sports program of football, bowling and hockey.

AMERICA!

Viewers will see "America!" the Beautiful, its people and heritage, in a new color series on WBEN-TV, Ch. 4, starting Monday, Nov. 27, at 9:30 p.m. The new travel-adventure series covers the vast panorama of this nation's beauty, culture and heritage, with Jack Douglas as weekly host as well as producer.

The first program is "The Cape, the Cod, the Constant Sea," and humorist Abe Burrows and Arctic explorer Admiral MacMillan will be guests. In addition, the program will visit Pilgrim's Monument, Christopher Wren Church, Colonial Candle Company, Storybook Amusement Park at Hyannis, a grist mill and a typical New England auction.

The second program will be visits to homes of Washington, Jefferson, and Lee, homes of the movie "greats", film studios, and one on "The Mohawk Trail" in western New York state.

The program series is endorsed by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

PEOPLE & PROGRAMS

A CARTOON JUBILEE is scheduled by Ch. 7 for youngsters home from school on the day after Thanksgiving. Included will be three and one-half hours of the popular ABC-TV cartoon characters.

ANIMAL SECRETS premieres for its second season on NBC-TV Sunday, Jan. 7, at 5-5:30 p.m.

THE ENORMOUS EGG, an adaptation of Oliver Butterworth's book, will be presented on NBC Children's Theatre Thursday, March 14, at 7:30 p.m. It's about a small boy from New Hampshire and his triceratops dinosaur which was hatched from an enormous egg laid by the boy's pet hen.

The planets of the solar system, in order of their distance from the Sun, are Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto.

Selected Viewing

Saturday, 10 p. m. — FOUR TEMPTATIONS spews fire and brimstone as it takes a look at the Devil in literature. Actors from the Harrisburg Community Theatre perform scenes ranging from early morality plays to Shaw's "Major Barbara." Also included are segments from "Dr. Faustus" and "Richard III."

Sunday, 7:00 p. m. — EXPERIMENT returns to the much debated question of man's relationship to the apes on "Childhood of the Chimpanzee." The program compares the chimpanzee to man — physically, mentally, and in early social behavior.

Monday, 9:00 p. m. — NET JOURNAL — LSD: LETTVIN VS. LEARY is a psychedelic showdown, complete with whirling lights. R pits head guru Timothy Leary against M.I.T. physiology professor Jerome Littvin in a debate on the psychological, and moral values of LSD.

Tuesday, 8:00 p. m. — SMOKING AND HEALTH, a series produced by WPSX-TV at Penn State, examines the causes and effects of the use of tobacco. The premiere program presents an overview of the smoking phenomenon. Dr. Elsworth Buskirk of the University explains the effects of smoking upon the human body.

Wednesday, 10 p. m. — TV QUARTERBACKS presents an analysis of the Penn State — Ohio University football game. Filmed highlights of the clash will be shown and head coach Joe Paterno of the Nittany Lions discusses strategy. He will also answer questions phoned in by viewers.

Thursday, 8:00 p. m. — TO WHOM MUCH IS GIVEN is a Thanksgiving special featuring a series of reflections on this holiday. Music and dialogue are included in this commentary of giving thanks in the 60's.

Friday, 7:30 p. m. — PENNTAP REPORT: THE MATERIAL DIFFERENCE looks at the way material research is creating a new "industrial revolution." This program, produced for the Pennsylvania Technical Assistance Program (PENNTAP), illustrates developments in this field that offer possibilities for the growth of Pennsylvania business and industry.

Fund Raising Campaign Starts At 1st Pilgrim

Sunday offerings at the First Pilgrim Holiness Church in Warren are going up on the board. The board is a sign with the numbers 1928-1968 and indicates a goal of "40 years of Quarters".

Church pastor R. S. Humphries and his congregation are trying to raise about $200 to finance the celebration of the church's 40th anniversary as an organized church in Warren. Quarters from the weekly "March Offerings" will be placed on the numbers until all eight are covered. The sign was made and donated by Theron (Hap) Johnson of Youngsville. A week of activities including nightly guest speakers is being planned for the celebration week, Feb. 4-11, 1968.

Former pastors of the church have been invited to speak. The Rev. J. L. Clark, pastor from 1965 to 1966, and currently Pittsburgh district superintendent, will be the guest speaker for the opening night services.

The Rev. Dale Bair, pastor here from 1963 to 1965 and now in Titusville, will speak Monday, Feb. 5. The Rev. L. W. Drury, pastor here from 1937 to 1944, will speak Wednesday, Feb. 7.

For the Sunday services, Feb. 11, the speaker will be the Rev. J. D. Abbott, general superintendent of the Pilgrim Holiness Churches, and former pastor in Warren from 1945 to 1948.

The "Harmony Four" recording group will provide service music on Feb. 4, and Feb. 9-10. The public is cordially invited to attend the meetings.

BE A SUPER SUPER SHOPPER
Pass the word around that you are available to take a grocery list to the super market and fill the order. You could charge a fee for your services and still find a host of women blessing you as a real wife-saver! The shopping service idea can even be expanded into personal service shopping. Local stores may give a discount on all purchases you make in exchange for bringing them the business.

Angels Standing In The Way

Rev. Lyston R. Knappenberger, Pastor—First Methodist Church, Youngsville, Pa.

The story of Balaam as recorded in the 22nd chapter of the book of Numbers is one of the more interesting Old Testament stories. It tells of Balaam, a Syrian diviner, who is summoned by the king of Moab to pronounce a curse against Israel. He finds his way blocked by an angel because the mission is not in keeping with God's will. Although it is an old tale it is full of meaning for us in that God still has "angels" standing in the way to keep us from wrong paths.

One of these is conscience. Let us consider this, giving thanks for its blessings, as well as increasing our awareness and use of it.

Conscience is that voice within us that tells us to do right. It makes us aware of our moral obligations. Many would equate it with the voice of God. Without exception, all of us have been kept from doing wrong by the voice of conscience. Perhaps there have been times when we have not listened, but on other occasions we have. God has been at work within us. Byron put it this way:

"Yet still there whispers the small voice within,
Heard through Gaius's silence,
and o'er Glory's din;
Whatever creed be taught or land be trod,
Man's conscience is the oracle of God."

A story told concerning a member of Illinois state legislature some years ago illustrates very well how conscience keeps us from going wrong. During this particular session the gentlemen in mind had prepared for passage in the legislature a measure which would bring profit to him and to others, but which was not just, honest, or right. All things having been arranged for a successful introduction and passage of the bill, and having a few hours left before the session opened, he went out to Oak Hill Cemetery to visit the tomb of Lincoln. As he walked along in the soft twilight about the monument and looked upon the statue of Lincoln, a feeling of great discomfort came over him with regard to the bill which was to be passed. The image of Lincoln and the thought of his noble character made the man uneasy and unhappy. He spent a very restless period and then became convinced that the bill must be withdrawn. This was done. What caused the action? It was conscience, the voice of God, awakened by the memory of Lincoln, warning the man to restrain his hand from doing evil.

In Victor Hugo's great LES MISERABLES Jean Valjean, the ex-convict, under a new name, had buried his past and had become the prosperous mayor of a provincial town. But one day he learned that in a neighboring village an old man arrested for stealing apples had been identified as the notorious and long-sought for convict, Jean Valjean. The news precipitated a crisis in the soul of the real Jean Valjean. Should he keep silent, or should he reveal his identity and be sent back to the gallows? Should he remain in paradise and become a demon, or go to hell an angel.

His first impulse was to say nothing and to do nothing. Out of a secret closet in the wall he drew a pair of old trousers, a blue linen blouse, an old knapsack, and a huge crucifix shod with iron at both ends. These were the last ties which attached him to the old Jean Valjean. He threw them into the fire, and then seized the candlesticks which the bishop had given him and flung them into the flame. But a voice said, "Jean Valjean, there will be many voices around you which will bless you, and only one that will curse you in the dark. All those benedictions will fall back before they ascend to God." This made him take the candlesticks out of the fire and replace them on the mantel.

The next day as the president of the court was about to pronounce sentence, the true convict stood up before the court and said, "I am Jean Valjean." Some thought that he was mad and others pitied him for the sacrifice that he had made. As he left the courtroom he said: "All of you consider me worthy of pity do you not? When I think what I was on the point of doing, I consider that I am envied. God, who is on high, looks down on what I am doing at this moment, and that suffices."

Why did he do it? Conscience, an angel of God standing in the way. Give thanks to God for your conscience, train it, and permit God to work in it to keep you on the right path.

Warren's first YMCA was housed in the wooden building in the center of this picture, known as the Hoffman Block, which is now the present location of the Kresge store.

The YMCA later moved into this building which is now occupied by the J. C. Penney store and Masonic Temple.

Warren YMCA, 310 Liberty Street — 1967

The Warren Young Men's Christian Association was organized on November 23, 1886, in the rooms of the Hoffman block, which at that time was located on the present Kresge Store site. In the first annual report it was stated Mrs. L. B. Hoffman would donate the use of two large rooms in the Hoffman Block along with light, heat, and water; "provided the ladies of the town would provide suitable furniture". "The ladies with their accustomed promptness and liberality very soon provided the necessary carpets and furniture."

Later the Association moved to what is now the J. C. Penney Store and Masonic Temple. Mr. C. J. Cray, of 508 Liberty Street, was the chairman of the Building Committee at the time the Association was located in this building.

In 1913, the present building at 310 Liberty Street was completed at a cost of $100,000. Mr. E. H. Beshlin, 410 Liberty Street, was Chairman of the Committee at this time.

Although the exterior of the present building has not been altered much over the years, the interior has been extensively renovated to include a new AAU swimming pool, locker and shower rooms, social rooms, meeting rooms, and many other facilities. The present building and grounds committee is composed of Kenneth Holtz, Chairman, N. K. Wendelboe, Jr., Robert Bowen, and Thomas Marsh. Over 2500 persons contributed to make the newly renovated facilities possible.

At present the YMCA has 407 family memberships and 2456 members. Everyone is invited to drop in and see the newly remodeled YMCA.

We, at Northwest Savings, congratulate the Directors, Trustees, Staff, Members and responsible citizens of our Community that have contributed so freely of their time, energy, and financial assistance to provide our Community with this modern YMCA. We urge your continued support of this program which contributes so much to the growth and development of our citizens. Join in by becoming a member during the annual "Sustaining Membership" Drive this coming week.
